Part 1: Introduction

Purpose of this Supplementary Planning Document (SPD)

- 1.1 The Affordable Housing SPD provides supplementary guidance, examples of good practice and expectations of the council in relation to the interpretation of the Local Plan policy requirements for the provision of affordable housing (Policies H3 and H4). It does not set new planning policy.
- 1.2 The guidance in this SPD is relevant to anyone who wishes to develop a new residential property; from a single additional dwelling to large residential schemes. The Local Plan affordable housing policy applies to all planning applications which would result in an increase in housing within the borough. It also applies to the provision of new extra care housing where this has the basic characteristics of a dwellinghouse¹. A summary document containing guidance for small residential developments is available separately.
- 1.3 This SPD is provided to support applicants, agents or developers undertaking residential development within Crawley borough, setting out guidance on requirements to contribute towards affordable housing. It combines advice from the council's Planning and Housing Enabling Services. This will need to be addressed in all new housing developments, changes of use for wholly residential and mixed use sites incorporating residential use, where planning permission is required.
- 1.4 Affordable housing can also be provided in other ways, outside the scope of this SPD (although some of this guidance will still apply), for example, where some schemes may provide more affordable housing than the policy requires, or where the council may have a specific tenure requirement or unique housing need that requires bespoke consideration.
- 1.5 The objectives of this SPD are to:
 - a. Provide clear guidance on how the council will interpret Local Plan policies for affordable housing;
 - b. Increase the efficiency of Section 106 negotiations and reduce the time taken to determine planning applications to ensure that housing delivery targets are met;
 - c. Enable the delivery of affordable dwellings of a tenure, type, size and affordability that helps to meet housing needs within Crawley;
 - d. Ensure that affordable housing is effectively integrated within development sites that are 'tenure blind' in terms of location and design to create mixed and balanced communities;
 - e. Highlight the thresholds at which affordable housing will be expected on-site;
 - f. Set out the exceptional circumstances in Crawley and the evidence which justifies contributions from small sites;
 - g. Establish the mechanism for calculating off-site payments in-lieu;
 - h. Indicate when it may be appropriate to consider 'alternative' tenures, or when to locate affordable housing on alternative sites or provide payment in lieu;
 - i. Outline factors that may reduce the percentage of affordable housing or adjust the tenure mix, and the mechanisms that will be used to assess viability;
 - j. Clarify the preferred types of tenure and the 'cascade' options in the event of viability constraints.
- 1.6 The SPD seeks to provide clear advice based on current information and expectations. However, it is written in a time of continuing change, with limitations to public expenditure, restrictions to the affordable housing funding regime, and changes to housing benefits and tenancies. In addition, further changes to planning policy through an updated National Planning Policy Framework are anticipated, including in relation to guidance and expectations in provision of housing for the aging population. This SPD will be updated if a new Local Plan policy approach is adopted through a formal Local Plan Review.

- 1.7 This SPD supersedes Supplementary Planning Guidance Note 10: Affordable Housing (SPGN10). It should be read alongside all relevant Local Plan policies and other Supplementary Planning Documents (SPD), as appropriate, including the Urban Design, Town Centre and Planning and Climate SPDs and site specific Development Briefs.
- 1.8 This SPD was adopted by Crawley Borough Council's Cabinet on XX XXXX 201X, following public consultation that was carried out between 21 June and 2 August 2017, in accordance with the council's Statement of Community Involvement.

Part 2: Policy Context, Procedures and Requirements

Planning Policy Context

National Policy

- 2.1 In order to address housing requirements in their areas and deliver a wide choice of high quality homes, the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF)² requires local planning authorities to:
- have a clear understanding of housing needs in their area and identify the scale and mix of housing and the range of tenures the local population is likely to need over the plan period;
 - address the need for all types of housing, including affordable housing and the needs of different groups in the community;
 - set policies for meeting this need on site, unless off-site provision or a financial contribution of broadly equivalent value can be robustly justified and the agreed approach contributes to the objective of creating mixed and balanced communities.

Crawley Borough Local Plan

- 2.2 Adopted Local Plan Policy H4³ establishes the requirement for affordable housing provision as part of new residential development schemes. This policy is set out below. It should be read in the context of the whole Local Plan and its supporting text.

Policy H4: Affordable and Low Cost Housing

Affordable Housing

40% affordable housing will be required from all residential developments.

The council will expect a minimum of 70% of the affordable housing to be Affordable Rent, or Social Rent where other forms of subsidy exist, and up to 30% Intermediate tenure.

For sites of 5 dwellings or less, or less than 0.2ha in size, a commuted sum towards off-site affordable housing provision will be sought.

Low Cost Housing

In addition to the provision of 40% affordable housing, approximately 10% low cost housing will be sought on developments proposing 15 dwellings or more, offering up to 10% discount to first-time buyers.

Exceptions

These targets will apply to all residential developments unless evidence can be provided to show that the site cannot support these requirements from a viability perspective and that the development clearly meets a demonstrable need.

Where viability is a concern, the council's order of cascading priority will be to firstly lower the expectations for low cost housing; then, through a more comprehensive viability assessment, to consider adjusting the tenure mix of affordable housing to assist the viability; and, finally, to consider adjusting the percentage of affordable housing to a negotiated level that the scheme can support.

Except for sites of 5 dwellings or less, payments in lieu will only be accepted in exceptional circumstances where it can be demonstrated that there are robust planning reasons for doing so and provided that the contribution is of equivalent financial value.

- 2.3 Policy H4 provides the primary planning policy consideration for all new residential developments within Crawley in respect of the affordable housing requirement. It requires that 40% of the total dwellings to be provided from all residential developments, must be in the form of 'affordable housing'.
- 2.4 The definition of affordable housing set out in the NPPF (provided in Appendix I) allows for this to cover a variety of property types. Therefore, the Policy establishes a proportionate split of the affordable element secured through new developments, ensuring a minimum of 70% Affordable/Social Rent and up to 30% Intermediate tenure.
- 2.5 In addition to this, in recognition of the importance of a wider blend of housing need and affordability issues, a further element of Low Cost housing is required as part of larger residential schemes comprising 15 units or more.
- 2.6 Financial Contributions are only accepted in exceptional circumstances where evidence is provided to clearly support this approach. This is particularly critical because, within Crawley, the amount of land available for development is limited and therefore on-site provision will always be preferred.
- 2.7 Key characteristics of a mixed community are a variety of house types, tenures and affordability, and a mix of households such as homes for single people and couples, as well as for families with children, and for older people. Policy H4 applies to all types of residential development sites which need planning permission including conversions, change of use and mixed use sites with residential development.
- 2.8 The council is planning for a mix of housing through the Local Plan Policy H3: Housing Mix. This Policy is based on the different households that are likely to need housing over the Plan period, with particular regard for current and future demographic trends and profiles and sets out the expectations for the mix of dwellings in delivering the affordable housing element of residential schemes.
- 2.9 The need for affordable housing provision within residential (Use Class C3) schemes to meet the Crawley population's need has been accepted. This recognised need covers all sectors of the population, including growing numbers of elderly people. Therefore, individual, self-contained dwelling (Use Class C3) units, including flatted development, will be expected to meet the requirements of affordable housing, even where these accommodate occupants receiving care and/or are restricted to occupancy over a particular age. Some of these C3 dwelling units could be located adjacent to or within a wider site which includes some C2 (residential care/nursing home) rooms. Viability will be addressed on a case-by-case basis, in accordance with the policy requirements. Provision for affordable housing will therefore be expected from all dwellinghouses (Use Class C3), including assisted living and extra-care accommodation.

Affordable Housing and the Community Infrastructure Levy (CIL)

- 2.10 Floor space comprising Affordable Housing and associated communal development is eligible for exemption from CIL charges. Under mandatory CIL requirements this eligibility extends to social rented, affordable rented, and shared ownership properties. The council has introduced a discretionary policy extending it to cover shared equity properties, homes sold at a discount of 20% or more, and some discounted market rent, where secured through S106. In all cases CIL relief is subject to application for being made to and approved by the council, and to adherence to CIL requirements, including the submission of a Commencement Notice prior to the commencement of the development. CIL charges will also become payable where units cease to meet the criteria for relief within a seven year 'clawback period'. For further information see the council's Developer Contributions Guidance Note.

Agenda Item 10

- 2.11 CIL receipts cannot be spent on securing affordable housing. Therefore, it will continue to be secured through S106 Agreements or Unilateral Undertakings, until such a time as this is changed nationally.

Strategic Housing Needs

- 2.12 In 2009, Crawley Borough, Horsham and Mid Sussex District Councils jointly commissioned consultants to undertake a Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) for the Northern West Sussex Housing Market Area (NWS HMA). This study was reviewed and partially updated in 2012 and in 2014. Together, the three reports set out extensive analysis and data concerning the definition, role and function of the housing market area.
- 2.13 The 2012 update report provided a refresh of key housing market information including the current, active housing market, local economic situation and level of affordable housing at that time.
- 2.14 The aim of the 2014 study was to update the Affordable Housing Needs Model and feed in the significant changes to national planning policy and practice at that time, and the national and local economic and affordable housing policy and practice context.
- 2.15 Two further studies were undertaken in 2016 to build upon the SHMA documents and form part of this evidence base. These are:
- Market Housing Mix (2016) Chilmark Consulting: to understand the market housing needs in relation to future housing mix;
 - Starter Homes (2016) Chilmark Consulting: to understand the extent of the need arising within Crawley for first time buyers under 40 years of age and the implications of introducing a Starter Home requirement on meeting Crawley's other affordable housing needs.

Crawley Context: Affordability Rates

- 2.16 The 2014 study confirmed that there remains a significant affordability issue in Crawley for entry to the private housing market⁴ in particular compared to the national position. This study identified that the price to earnings ratio generally rose during the recession. This, coupled with continued difficulties for many households to secure housing finance and increased deposit borrowing requirements implemented by lenders, means that an acute level of relative unaffordability for entry-level market housing remains.

Housing Register

- 2.17 The Housing Register for Crawley provides more detail about the level of affordable housing need experienced by households in the borough. It currently shows a predominant requirement for two-bed affordable dwellings, with one-bed and three-bed dwellings being the next priority of affordable housing needs.
- 2.18 The council's Housing Register is regularly updated and can be accessed on-line at www.crawley.gov.uk/housing. This represents the number of households with identified housing needs at that point in time, and is made up of families and vulnerable people. The people on this list require social and affordable rented homes.

- 2.19 The register does not include those people on moderate incomes who are on waiting lists for intermediate types of affordable housing such as shared-ownership or shared-equity forms of tenure. The Help-to-Buy Agent for the South East of England is presently BPHA, and they hold a separate register of people who want to acquire a low-cost home within the borough. Contact details are provided in Appendix E.

Changes to National Affordable Housing Planning Policy

- 2.20 Since the adoption of the Local Plan, there have been some significant national policy and legislative changes and legal decisions which directly affect the implementation of Policy H4. These include:
- the enactment of the Housing and Planning Act 2016;
 - the publication of the Housing White Paper 2017;
 - the enactment of the Neighbourhood Planning Act 2017; and
 - the Court of Appeal judgement reinstating the Ministerial Statement of November 2014.

Discount Market Housing and Starter Homes

- 2.21 The Housing and Planning Act encourages Local Planning Authorities to deliver Starter Homes as part of a mixed package of affordable housing of all tenures that can respond to local needs and local markets.
- 2.22 The Housing White Paper was published in February 2017 and indicates the key intentions of the government in relation to changes to housing and planning approaches in England. Of particular relevance to this SPD, the White Paper explores the intentions of “diversifying the market” and “helping people now”, which include initiatives such as:
- explore option to encourage local authorities to build;
 - make it easier for people who want to own their own homes (Help to Buy and Starter Homes);
 - encouraging building more homes for private rent and introducing family-friendly tenancies; and
 - investing in affordable housing (Affordable Homes Programme).
- 2.23 Proposals to broaden the definition of affordable housing in the NPPF are confirmed in the White Paper. This introduces reference to low cost home ownership opportunities, including starter homes, and affordable private rented housing, such as Build to Rent Schemes, whilst seeking to retain all types of housing that are currently considered affordable homes. This proposed definition is set out in Appendix I following the existing NPPF definition.
- 2.24 In applying Policy H4 of the Crawley Borough Local Plan, the council will consider schemes which conform to the definitions within the latest formally published NPPF definition, within the adopted tenure split. Policy H4 offers opportunities to provide a broad range of tenures and affordability levels to meet a wide spectrum of housing needs. This includes a requirement for 10% low cost housing market provision, in order to support those households with aspirations to own a home.

Small Residential Developments below the Planning Practice Guidance Threshold

- 2.25 Crawley Borough Local Plan Policy H4, which has no threshold for affordable housing contributions, was supported by the Local Plan Inspector because of the importance of small sites in Crawley’s future housing land supply and was adopted between the two Court decisions regarding small site contributions. The weight of national policy is acknowledged and has been considered in detail against the local evidence and the recently adopted, and up-to-date, Local Plan policy. It is considered that, in Crawley's specific circumstances, the local evidence justifies seeking affordable housing contributions in line with the Policy expectations from all new residential developments regardless of size, unless viability constraints indicate the requirements cannot be supported. A comprehensive explanation of this position is set out in Appendix J.

Agenda Item 10

- 2.26 Therefore, the SPD maintains the adopted Local Plan policy position and establishes the approach the council will take in determining the affordable housing requirement for small residential developments (i.e. both in terms of those of ten dwellings or less, as established in national policy, and those of five dwellings or less, as set out in the Local Plan policy).
- 2.27 However, the council is mindful of the national intention to support the smaller house builder industry, through reducing "disproportionate burdens" affecting the viability and deliverability of small sites and the government drive to incentivise small house builders. On this basis, the Policy will be applied with consideration to addressing these concerns, particularly in relation to taking account of economies of scale and considering the way financial contributions are calculated and when they may be paid. More detail is set out in Part 4 of this SPD and a summary guidance note to assist developers is available.

Procedures and Requirements

Pre-Application Discussions

- 2.28 Applicants, agents and developers are encouraged to seek pre-application advice prior to the formal submission of development proposals. It is essential that developers consider early in the pre-application process how affordable housing and the requirements of Policy H4 will be integrated into a policy-compliant development scheme.
- 2.29 All relevant development proposals should have regard to the principles set out in this SPD. The council will expect that all planning applications will demonstrate how the design and layout of the proposal has regard to the requirements outlined in this document.

The Planning Application, S106 Legal Agreement and Affordable Housing Scheme

- 2.30 Obligations for the provision of affordable housing secured through s106 of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (as amended) are entered into as legal agreements between local planning authorities, landowners, developers and any others with an interest in the land. In certain circumstances, an applicant/developer may submit a Unilateral Undertaking in respect of a planning obligation.
- 2.31 Preferably, the S106 Agreement (or Unilateral Undertaking) will be finalised and ready for completion prior to the consideration of the application by the Planning Committee or by officers under delegated powers. Where this is not possible, Heads of Terms will at least need to be agreed in time to be included in the Planning Application Committee Report.
- 2.32 All Full applications for residential development which result in one or more additional units should be accompanied by an Affordable Housing Scheme (AHS) setting out how the affordable housing requirements compliant with the Crawley Borough Local Plan 2015-2030 and further detailed in this SPD will be met. For Full applications, the S106 Agreement will secure the provisions set out in the Affordable Housing Scheme. An example Affordable Housing Scheme proforma is provided in Appendix A. In the case of Outline planning applications, the provision of affordable housing will be secured at the time of the planning permission but, depending on the level of detail in the application, the S106 may enable the specifics in relation to the Affordable Housing Scheme to be provided as part of Reserved Matters application stage. For Permissions in Principle, affordable housing will be secured at the appropriate stage in accordance with the regulations once finalised.

2.33 The Affordable Housing Scheme must include the following details:

- Affordable Housing quantum, tenure split and unit mix
- Type of provision – on-site, or financial contribution in lieu of on-site provision

Where on-site provision is being made, details of the:

- Site plan showing tenures (rented and intermediate);
- Floor plans showing room sizes and storage capacity;
- Car parking plan showing allocations across all tenures;
- Phasing plan for the delivery of the affordable housing;
- A schedule of accommodation showing number, size (GIFA), number of rooms, number of bed-spaces, type of dwelling, and tenure of units;
- A statement detailing the intended design and sustainability standards;
- The process for appointing a suitable Affordable Housing Provider.

2.34 If an application does not include an AHS the application may not be registered and will be returned to the applicant. Further details will be provided in the council's Local List. Once the AHS is agreed with the Local Planning Authority and Strategic Housing and Planning Services this will form the Heads of Terms for the S106 Agreement, which the council will instruct to be drafted. Providing an AHS on submission of the application will significantly speed up the S106 process to secure the planning permission.

Registered Affordable Housing Providers

2.35 Developers should enter into discussions with Affordable Housing Providers known to the council at an early stage in the planning process, and the brief inviting offers from Affordable Housing Providers shall be submitted to the Local Planning Authority for attention of the Housing Enabling and Development Manager to permit monitoring of the process and intervention when necessary.

2.36 The Affordable Housing Providers which are active in Crawley are listed in Appendix E, and the requirements of these Registered Providers are summarised in Part 5 below.

Part 3: Delivering Affordable Housing

Crawley Borough Council's commitment

- 3.1 Within Crawley, there is a significant need for affordable housing and the council is committed to maximising the provision of new affordable housing to address this need. The council aims to achieve mixed, balanced and sustainable communities and to deliver high quality affordable housing for local people in housing need.
- 3.2 In addition to achieving affordable housing through S106 Planning Obligations, the council is also directly engaged in providing affordable housing through its own-build programme, as well as in partnership with Affordable Housing Providers.

On-Site or Off-Site Provisions and Financial Contributions

- 3.3 The council expects affordable housing to be provided on-site and expects the land-vendor and developer to make provision for this requirement. Therefore, the council's preference for meeting the affordable housing requirements of Policy H4 will always be for on-site affordable housing provision.
- 3.4 Strong planning or housing justification will need to be made before the council will consider accepting off-site provision or a commuted payment. This is a matter for the developer to demonstrate and for consideration by the planning authority in conjunction with council's Strategic Housing and Planning Services.
- 3.5 Circumstances that might justify off-site provision in lieu could arise in the following scenarios:
- Where the objectives of achieving a mixed and balanced community could be better met in an alternative location. For example, where the appropriate form of affordable housing cannot be provided within a scheme.
 - Where there are high housing costs for occupiers associated with the development. For example, in conversions of listed buildings which results in high service/maintenance charges and where this cannot be satisfactorily overcome or avoided by alternative design.
 - Where on small sites it is not practical from a management perspective to provide and manage a small number of onsite affordable housing units. For example, this would apply to schemes consisting of 5 dwellings or less.
- 3.6 It is accepted that on-site provision may not always be achievable on small developments of 5 dwellings or less, but should become increasingly more achievable as schemes become larger in scale. On this basis, the council will accept an off-site financial contribution on schemes consisting of five dwellings or less in lieu of on-site provision. This does not prohibit on-site provision of affordable housing on sites of this scale, but recognises that circumstances often may not allow for delivering affordable housing on-site. On schemes consisting of six dwellings or more the council will expect the on-site provision of affordable housing, although the council may exercise flexibility with respect to choice of tenure, or may otherwise accept a commuted payment in exceptional circumstances if there is compelling justification to support this request. In circumstances where off-site arrangements are agreed, alternatives could include commuted payments, commuted land, or a combination of land and capital.

Number of Dwellings	Affordable Housing Requirement	When Commuted Payments Become Payable
One to five dwellings	40%	Off-site commuted payment accepted.

Agenda Item 10

Number of Dwellings	Affordable Housing Requirement	When Commuted Payments Become Payable
Six to ten dwellings	40%	On-site provision expected, with flexibility to provide appropriate tenure, and off-site commuted payment only considered in exceptional circumstances.
Eleven or more dwellings	40%	On-site provision expected, with off-site commuted payments only considered in exceptional cases.
Fifteen or more dwellings	40% + 10%	The added provision of Low-Cost Housing or Starter Homes is expected on-site. Commuted payments will not be considered, unless exceptional circumstances can be clearly demonstrate.

- 3.7 It is important to note that economic viability is not the key test of whether there should be on- or off-site affordable housing provision. Viability determines the overall amount of affordable housing contribution – i.e. the appropriate percentage and the type (tenure and mix) of affordable housing sought – regardless of whether this is provided on-site, off-site or as a commuted payment.
- 3.8 Off-site provision and financial contributions are intended to be equitable with on-site provision and will, as a minimum, be based on the broadly equivalent value of providing free serviced land for the affordable housing element of the scheme. The formulaic approach for calculating commuted payments is detailed in Part 4 (paras 4.14 – 4.16) and Appendix D of this SPD.

Tenure Split and Tenure Options

Adopted Policy

- 3.9 The council's Local Plan currently seeks a tenure split of the affordable housing units based on 70% as social/affordable rent and 30% as intermediate tenures, which respectively equates to 28% and 12% of the total scheme, with an additional requirement for 10% of the total scheme to offer Low-Cost Home-Ownership or Starter Homes as assistance to first-time buyers. This tenure mix results in 50% of the scheme for market housing with the remaining 50% consisting of low-cost, intermediate, and rental housing.
- 3.10 Rental Tenures:
- Social Rent remains council's preferred rental tenure as this offers affordable housing at the most affordable rent levels with the lowest burden on housing benefits, and the council acknowledges that this form of tenure requires significant levels of subsidy, but encourages this affordable tenure where circumstances allow.
 - Affordable Rent, while offering a moderate level of discount at 80% of open market rent levels, the council encourages efforts to ensure these rents are set at the lowest quartile of market-related rent levels to assist in addressing the affordability of people in housing need, and rent levels set below 80% of market levels will also be encouraged.
 - Discounted Market Rent (DMR), also referred to as Affordable Private Rent (APR), may be accepted in certain circumstances as an alternative form of rental tenure, where rents are kept to within Local Housing Allowance (LHA) rates and offered to the council as Assured Shorthold Tenancies (AST's). Such an arrangement would be at the council's discretion, on a scheme by scheme basis, as there is a limited requirement for this particular form of tenure to meet a particular housing need. An example of this would be on a Private Rented Scheme (PRS) or a Build-to-Rent scheme, and would remain in effect for as long as such schemes remain as private rented. Should such a scheme cease to be private rented, then at that time the discounted or affordable private rent element would need to revert to the traditional affordable rent tenure as a deferred S106 requirement.

3.11 Intermediate Tenures:

a) Shared Ownership meets the needs of entry-level house buyers, and is a proven form of home-ownership to mortgage providers, and is particularly suited to low deposit requirements and low- to moderate-income levels, which the council encourages in order to meet this specific housing need and level of affordability.

b) Shared Equity or Discounted Market Sale addresses the needs of first-time buyers on moderate incomes, capable of supporting a higher mortgage with a suitable deposit, but without any rental obligation, and is a less proven form of home ownership and more challenging to mortgage providers, which the council also supports (after shared ownership) to address this particular housing need and particular level of affordability.

3.12 Low Cost Market Housing and Starter Homes:

Low Cost housing offers elementary assistance to entry-level house buyers as a one-off subsidy, without any perpetuity to benefit future buyers, but offering assistance to first-time buyers who are on the margins of entering the housing market, and meets an entry-level housing need, which the council also encourages, but in addition to all other forms of affordable housing, not replacing it.

3.13 Appendix C provides an indicative breakdown of tenures based on the current Local Plan policy. The approach to be taken in terms of tenure options in the case of small housing development is set out in paragraphs 4.29 – 4.32 below.

Design Principles

House Types and Sizes

3.14 In accordance with Local Plan Policy H3: Housing Mix, the findings of the Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) will be particularly important to the determination of an agreed mix of affordable housing, which will be updated periodically. The council will also use the most up-to-date information available on local need to inform its negotiations on affordable housing mix, including local housing register of need for rented and intermediate housing. Paragraph 6.60 of the supporting text to Policy H3 confirms that the recommended mix across all priority bandings and affordable tenures is:

SHMA Recommended Affordable Housing Mix by Size
One Bed (1b/2p)	Two Bed (2b/4p)	Three Bed (3b/5p)	Four Bed (4b/6p)+
25%	50%	20%	5%

3.15 Regard will also be had to site characteristics, including the scale and density of a proposed scheme in determining the mix and dwelling type of affordable housing. In this regard, lower density schemes may lean more towards meeting the need for larger family housing, while higher density schemes may lean more towards smaller house types for emerging households and smaller family units. While it is accepted that one-bed units will inevitably be provided in flatted form, this must not be assumed for the two-bed units, and a suitable ratio of two-bed houses will be sought where the design allows.

3.16 Due to the need for affordable housing to serve wide-ranging needs of its occupants over the life of the building, and because affordable houses are likely to be fully occupied as they are linked to the CBC allocation policy and with the objective of providing stability to its occupants, developers must always assume the larger configuration of unit types, meaning two-bed units must be for four-persons, and three-bed units must be for five-persons, etc. The smaller configured unit types may only be accepted as an exception and in limited numbers.

Agenda Item 10

Affordable Housing Supplementary Planning Document November 2017

Site Layout and Clustering

- 3.17 The layout of developments should integrate affordable housing with the open market housing in ways that minimise social exclusion. Affordable housing should be located fairly and equitably in terms of access and proximity to on-site amenities and community facilities.
- 3.18 When considering the overall layout of a development, regard will need to be given to the density, tenure mix and type and size of dwellings in establishing the most effective clustering approach. While clustering will be considered on a site-by-site basis, depending on the scale and density of a scheme, developers should start with the assumption of integrating small clusters across the development.
- 3.19 In higher density flatted developments, logical clustering around service cores is considered to be practical, with some consideration given to market sentiment with regards clustering of tenure types. Ideally, clustering that results in the freehold being transferred to the Affordable Housing Provider will be the preferred outcome and may be compelling in agreeing levels of clustering. However, on larger developments tenure monocultures should be avoided, and clusters should be integrated across the scheme.
- 3.20 Where schemes are being delivered as all affordable housing there is no restriction on the quantum of affordable housing tenures (except the minimum of 28% rental tenure), but the design must make best endeavours to ensure sustainable communities result, and the council will facilitate the preparation of a Local Lettings Plan aimed at achieving balanced and sustainable communities.
- 3.21 On phased developments or large developments split into parcels of land, developers must take into account the clustering of affordable housing on neighbouring parcels of land to ensure the even distribution of affordable housing clusters throughout the area as a whole.
- 3.22 The spread of housing across the site between market and affordable properties should be equitable, sharing the favourable, and less favourable, aspects of the location.

Design, Build Standards and Sustainability

- 3.23 The council will expect high standards of design, layout and landscaping for all developments, and it is expected that affordable housing will be tenure-blind in design, and indiscernible from and well integrated with the general market housing.
- 3.24 In accordance with Local Plan Policy CH5: Standards for All New Dwellings (including conversions), all new schemes will need to meet the government's Nationally Described Space Standards, as a minimum requirement, in terms of internal space standards. These are set out below and schemes not complying with these standards will not be supported.
- 3.25 Schemes funded through HCA or other funding programmes should meet any additional standards as required by the funding stream.

3.26 Applications must be submitted in square metre, with all plans drawn to a metric scale and floorplan figures given in metric for validation. Accommodation schedules must also list floorspace in metric.

3.27 External space standards and guidance, based on Local Plan Policy CH5, are set out in the Urban Design SPD. Affordable dwellings are anticipated to be fully occupied and the recommended external space standards, as set out in the SPD, for such stock within a development are expected to be met, in order to comply with the policy requirement to be designed to include amenity space standards adequate to meet basic privacy, amenity and usability requirements; suitable for the level of occupancy.

Disability and Accessibility Standards

3.28 In accordance with Local Plan Policy CH5, the council will also require all new homes to be built to the new building regulation standard relating to 'accessible and adaptable' housing Part M4(2)⁵. This will ensure that properties provide suitable accommodation for changing needs throughout the life of the building and its occupants.

Car Parking Standards

3.29 Car parking provision for the affordable housing dwellings should meet the same standards per dwelling as the open market housing enjoys in the number, design and availability of the car parking spaces. It will be at the council's discretion to agree any departure from the position of pro-rata allocation across all tenures.

Part 4: Alternative Arrangements (where applicable)

Viability Assessments

- 4.1 The council will expect all developers to endeavour to meet the Local Plan policy requirement of 40% affordable housing to be delivered on any residential development, and the additional 10% Low Cost housing for schemes of 15 dwellings or more. In the event of anticipated viability issues, the developer is advised to contact the Local Planning Authority (LPA) at an early stage to discuss ways of addressing the requirements for providing affordable housing.
- 4.2 In such circumstances, the council will, at first, request a Viability Statement from the developer, which shall provide the following information:
- A summary of acquisition costs and anticipated development costs.
 - A summary of assumed income from sales, also showing assumed or actual offers from Registered Providers.
 - An indication of the perceived funding shortfall that prevents the scheme from being policy compliant.
- 4.3 In response to this information, the council would seek to test the viability by exploring other viability enhancements such as:
- deferred contribution payments, and/or
 - adjusting the affordable housing tenure split, and/or
 - enabling the Affordable Housing Provider with capital subsidy.
- 4.4 If, after exploring these alternative options, there still remains a viability concern then the council will expect the developer to submit a detailed Viability Appraisal. The council will appoint an independent assessor to assess the Viability Appraisal, and the developer will need to cover the costs of the council appointed assessor.
- 4.5 Any Viability Appraisal will be an 'open book' assessment which should broadly include information covering at least the following issues, with the full list detailed in Appendix B:
- Existing use values
 - Proposed use values (sales and rental)
 - Demolition and construction costs
 - Assumed yield
 - Site abnormalities
 - Development phasing and programme
- 4.6 Where the affordable housing requirement is varied on grounds of viability the S106 Agreement will put a time limit to such agreed concession and will require a reappraisal of viability if the scheme is not completed within the defined time frame.
- 4.7 Due to movement in the housing market, Viability Appraisals have a limited 'shelf life' and should be reassessed on a periodic basis. If, in such circumstances the scheme is proven to be more viable, then affordable housing permutations will be reassessed against the available options within the scheme.
- 4.8 If a Viability Appraisal is submitted in relation to a valid planning application, then the LPA will treat the submission as a confidential document due to its commercial sensitivity and if such matters require debate at planning committee this will also be carried out in confidence (under a Part B report). However, a summary document for publication should be provided to explain the developer's position. Please note that due to Freedom of Information requirements and requests, it cannot be guaranteed that the Viability Appraisal and the subsequent assessment will remain confidential.

Agenda Item 10

- 4.9 The LPA keeps all pre-application enquiries confidential and so any Viability Appraisal submitted in relation to a pre-application enquiry is likely to be treated as confidential, but the council cannot guarantee this, due to Freedom of Information requirements, and again the applicant is advised to clearly explain if they believe the document should remain confidential when it is submitted.

Applying 'Cascade' Options

- 4.10 Any Viability Appraisal will be expected to model a range of permutations to assess the impact of different tenure mixes against differing percentages of affordable housing within the scheme, and it will be at the council's discretion to select the permutation that best meets local housing needs.
- 4.11 The council's order of cascading priority will be to firstly lower the expectations for Low-Cost housing, followed by adjusting the tenure mix within reasonable levels and/or reducing the percentage of affordable housing within a scheme, and only in exceptional circumstances will the council consider accepting off-site commuted payments in lieu of affordable housing.
- 4.12 Where applicants succeed in proving through a viability assessment that the scheme cannot support 40% affordable housing, the reduction of this requirement will be agreed through the formal decision-making process on the planning application.
- 4.13 Where the council is required to make any concessions to its stated position as a result of viability concerns, then a claw-back clause will be included in the Section 106 Agreement to test the viability assumptions at the conclusion of the scheme, where the scheme may be liable to make a final commuted payment.

Commuted Arrangements

- 4.14 Where exceptional circumstances result in the council accepting an off-site commuted payment, the basic rationale will be for the council to secure a capital contribution that would be at a minimum equivalent to free-serviced land, and should reflect the cost to the development had affordable housing been provided on-site. The approach to be taken in calculating the financial contribution is based on a Square Metre Levy.
- 4.15 This is an approach whereby a square metre levy is applied across the whole development aimed at securing an appropriate proportion of the build area towards the provision of affordable housing on an alternative site. This approach seeks to achieve a value equivalent to free-serviced land for the proportion of affordable housing that would have otherwise been provided on-site. For Crawley, a land values tariff of £350 p/sqm is considered appropriate. This approach would provide a simple calculation based on proposed development size.
- 4.16 Appendix D sets out examples of how this tariff-based approach will be applied to calculate off-site commuted payments. The Affordable Housing Calculator is available to access directly online using the following link:

Affordable Housing Calculator

Agenda Item 10

Procedures for Commuted Sum Payments

- 4.17 Generally, the council will expect the following to be included in the S106 Agreement or Unilateral Undertaking with respect to the procedures for making commuted sum payments:
- The formulae as applied in calculating the amount to be paid as at the date of the application or the date of the Planning Committee resolution.
 - Indexation from the date of the Resolution to Grant or Unilateral Undertaking until the date of payment. Indexation will be on an annual basis in accordance with the Retail Price Index.
 - Normally, for schemes of one to ten dwellings payments shall be made on occupation of the first property. For schemes of 11 dwellings or more, the payment schedule will be 50% on commencement and 50% upon occupation of the first market units, unless otherwise agreed. Indexation will continue until the final payment is made.
 - The applicant is to notify the council when payment trigger is reached.
 - Penalty interest to be payable on late payments.
 - The council will have 10 years in which to spend the capital contribution.
 - The council may spend the capital contribution in any part of the borough, or within developments beyond Crawley's administrative boundary where the council secures nomination rights to affordable housing, for the provision and/or improvements to affordable housing.
- 4.18 The S106 or Unilateral Undertaking will contain a milestone that triggers the payment of the capital contribution, usually (but not necessarily always) this will be the carrying out of any Material Operation.
- 4.19 When the payment is triggered, the applicant should notify the council that payment is now due. On receipt of the notification, the council will issue an invoice for the amount payable, including any indexation.

Small Developments

- 4.20 As explained in para. 2.25 – 2.27, and 3.6 above and Appendix J, the council considers there is sufficient local evidence to justify a 40% affordable housing requirement in all residential developments including 1-9 dwellings, outweighing the Written Ministerial Statement.
- 4.21 In order to support the submission of valid planning applications for small housing developments (including single dwellings and conversions), a Summary Guidance document has been published alongside this SPD, and an example Affordable Housing Scheme is provided in Appendix A which can be completed and discussed during pre-application discussions.
- 4.22 In accordance with the application of on-site provision and financial contributions sought set out in Part 3, differing guidance is provided in paragraph 3.6 in relation to schemes of 1-5 dwellings and schemes of 6-10 dwellings.
- 4.23 The Local Plan Policy accepts for small developments (five or less new dwellings) it may be preferable to provide the contribution in the form of a financial contribution rather than on-site provision. Should on-site provision be preferred, early discussions with the council must determine the most preferable form this would take.
- 4.24 Where financial contribution are sought (including for calculating the value for on-site tenure options in developments of six to ten new dwellings), the Affordable Housing Calculator has a built-in sliding scale discount, to ensure the contribution required remains proportionate and viable for smaller developments (these values are set out in Table 1 in Appendix D). For smaller schemes (ten dwellings or less) payment is accepted at the point of first occupation in order to aid cash-flow constraints (see paragraph 4.21, bullet 3 above).

Tenure Approach for Small Sites:

- 4.25 On smaller schemes of 10 units or less the starting point will be to establish the capital value of the expected affordable housing contribution using the Affordable Housing Calculator. This will determine the commuted sum payable on schemes of 5 residential units or less, unless the applicant wishes to consider on-site provision whereby the approach detailed below will also apply.
- 4.26 For schemes in the range of 6 to 10 residential units, the capital contribution established by the Affordable Housing Calculator for on-site provision will be modelled by the council to determine the most appropriate on-site use of this resource to address local housing needs while taking into account practical considerations and constraints.
- 4.27 The council's options would then be to apply this capital value across the available affordable housing units as either Discounted Market Sale or Shared-Equity, which would not require the involvement of a Registered Affordable Housing Provider. Alternatively, with the involvement of a Registered Affordable Housing Provider, the options available to council would then include either Shared-Ownership or Affordable Rent. The council may choose to apply this capital value over fewer affordable units than are due in order to improve the affordability of the affordable units.

For example:

A scheme comprising of 6 residential units (2 x 1b/2p flats, 2 x 2b/4p flats, and 2 x 2b/4p houses) would have:

- an affordable housing requirement of 2.4 affordable units;
- which would be equivalent to a capital contribution towards affordable housing ranging between £104,067 and £119,953.
- This is based on 446m² GIA and almost £1.5m GDV, depending on which option is applied.

Please refer to Tables 2 and 3 in Appendix D for the example calculation.

- 4.28 In addition, to further reduce disproportionate burdens on smaller developments, the council will seek to simplify viability assessment requirements. A checklist for Viability Assessment information is provided in Appendix B. If a viability or delivery problem is accepted, then the council will consider:
- i. Varying mix/tenure split;
 - ii. Varying payment timing;
 - iii. Reducing percentage of affordable and/or applying a lower sum to the off-site calculation.

Part 5: Further Information for Developers and Registered Providers

Viewings and Occupancy

- 5.1 The developer of any affordable housing units must take into account the timing and procedures which the council needs to address when making nominations into the affordable dwellings. This inevitably requires the advertising of the available units in small batches and the necessary viewings of the available units prior to occupation.
- 5.2 Developers must appreciate that such advertising of these units can only commence once firm and achievable handover dates are provided by the developer, and a minimum of three weeks is required prior to handover for the nominations process to be carried out. During this period prior to handover and occupation, the affordable housing units must be made available for viewing by prospective tenants and a schedule for these viewings will be agreed between the council, the Affordable Housing Provider and the developer/contractor.
- 5.3 In the event of disabled adapted affordable units being provided, the council undertakes to identify a qualifying tenant no less than four months prior to completion, whereby a qualified Occupational Therapist will be appointed to liaise with the Project Team and the developer/contractor with respect to the bespoke fitting out of such units to meet the needs of the identified tenant.
- 5.4 The developer/contractor will be responsible for the preparation of a Tenants Manual in consultation with the Affordable Housing Provider.

Arrangements with Affordable Housing Providers

Nominations Agreement

- 5.5 All Affordable Housing Providers wishing to partake in Crawley's affordable housing programme will be expected to enter into the council's Standard Nomination Agreement (set out in Appendix H). This is generally not scheme specific, and would remain an undertaking for all present and future affordable housing dwellings.

Local Lettings Plans

- 5.6 The council's present policy is to prepare scheme specific Local Lettings Plans (LLP) on schemes where 15 or more affordable units are to be provided. The LLP will be prepared by the council's Housing Needs Team in consultation with the Affordable Housing Provider.

Enabled Schemes

- 5.7 Where Affordable Housing Providers initiate their own schemes for affordable housing, the council's basic expectation remains a minimum of 40% affordable housing (on a 70/30 tenure split) with a 10% low-cost element, and while rental at affordable levels remains council's main priority, the choice of tenures for the remaining 50% of the scheme will be at the discretion of the Registered Provider.

Bidding for S106 Affordable Element

- 5.8 The council will provide developers with a list of Registered Affordable Housing Providers known to be active within the borough, and in the event that the Registered Provider is unable to provide their offer they are requested to notify the council of the reasons they were unable to, or chose not to, submit an offer to the developer.

Agenda Item 10

Affordable Housing Supplementary Planning Document
November 2017

- 5.9 When Affordable Housing Providers are approached by developers inviting offers for the affordable housing element of any market-led scheme they are encouraged to contact the Local Planning Authority if they have any doubt over council's planning policy, or if they believe that the developer's brief does not comply with council's policies, to seek clarification of scheme-specific and policy compliant requirements.

Perpetuity of Affordable Housing and Recycling of Receipts

- 5.10 The definition of affordable housing in the NPPF makes it clear that affordable housing must remain affordable into the future. Therefore, there must be safeguards that either preserve the status of that affordable housing or, if it is no longer used for affordable housing, that resources derived from it are recycled to replace the dwellings with affordable housing within the borough.
- 5.11 There are a number of reasons why affordable housing units may be lost, for example, a tenant statutory acquisition of a rented dwelling, or staircasing shared-ownership properties, or discharging a shared-equity charge. In all cases, the council expects the equivalent dwellings to be replaced within the borough or, at very least, that any resources arising from such disposal are to be recycled to provide further affordable housing in the borough.

Affordable Rents and Local Housing Allowance

- 5.12 In setting affordable rents, Affordable Housing Providers should be guided by the Local Housing Allowance (LHA) rates for the Crawley area, as these rates will continue to limit the amount of Housing Benefit available to households, and Registered Providers (RPs) are expected to use these LHA rates as the upper cap in setting the Affordable Rent levels. The upper cap of the LHA rates will remain applicable in all future years and shall not be breached under any circumstances. As an indicative guide, the current rates are set out in Appendix F; these are subject to annual review.

To address any 'disproportional burden', these variables on smaller schemes of [10 units or less] are 'discounted' on a sliding scale, the first unit starting at [one-third] of these respective values.

 - c. Make best use of the borough councils existing social housing stock by releasing where possible under-occupied larger family units.
- 4.2 The RP shall 6-12 months prior to anticipated completion of the development submit to the Borough Councils Allocations Team, detailed property information in respect of any wheelchair or disabled adapted units. - 5.7 The RP will usually notify the Council of all interested parties for properties available for shared ownership, usually after block viewings have taken place. Priority in the first instance will be given to applicants registered on the Borough Councils housing register who qualify for shared ownership, then those who are registered through Homebuy.

AIMS OF THE TENANCY STRATEGY

The Council has the following aims for working in partnership with social housing providers operating in Crawley:

1. To meet housing need
This includes the needs of those who are homeless, those to whom we must give reasonable preference owing to the inadequacy of their housing, and those who are older or vulnerable for some other reason. Providers are expected to ensure that their properties are both affordable and accessible to people in housing need. Lettings to affordable rented properties should remain subject to local authority nominations to the degree they are now. Access should not be limited in any way to those eligible for social rented housing through adoption of additional criteria such as requirements for financial and personal vetting, or for the payment of deposits or administration fees, outside of the existing Housing Allocation Scheme.
2. To create balanced and sustainable communities
This means giving people appropriate tenancies for their needs and circumstances and taking these needs and circumstances into account in any use of renewable tenancies. It also means achieving mixed-income communities. A mixture of incomes can be achieved by including affordable housing within open market sites, and by including social and/or affordable rent alongside intermediate tenures, including shared ownership. Where appropriate, a mixture of working and non-working households can be achieved through the use of local lettings policies.

3. To ensure that low income households can continue to be housed

Providers must ensure that all household types in need of affordable housing can continue to access this, including households in receipt of benefit, working households and larger families requiring three or four bedroom accommodation. Providers need to take this into account in setting their rent policies for new build housing, and also in their approach to converting existing stock from target to affordable rents. Affordable housing is very over-subscribed in Crawley and social housing providers should only consider selling off vacant properties in exceptional circumstances following consultation with the Council.

4. To prevent homelessness arising as a result of the ending of renewable tenancies

Providers are expected to ensure that, if a tenancy is not to be renewed, tenants are either transferred to a more suitable property or, in the case that they are able to afford the open housing market, advised accordingly. It is not appropriate or acceptable for the ending of a renewable tenancy to result in a homelessness duty on the Council.

5. To make best use of stock and facilitate movement within the sector

This would include enabling under-occupiers, including existing social tenants, to downsize by considering the terms of any alternative tenancy that would encourage them to move, as well as encouraging those in substantially adapted properties to move if they no longer need those adaptations.

6. To help people make informed choices

It is important that there is a consistent approach across registered providers' policies wherever possible, as well as effective communication of information regarding rents and renewable tenancies, to enable people on the Housing Register to make informed choice and avoid confusion about their housing options.

APPENDIX I: NPPF AFFORDABLE HOUSING DEFINITIONS

The National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) provides affordable housing guidance in Section 6, with Paragraph 3.1 defining affordable housing as follows:

“Social rented, affordable rented and intermediate housing, provided to eligible households whose needs are not met by the market. Eligibility is determined with regard to local incomes and local house prices. Affordable housing should include provisions to remain at an affordable price for future eligible households or for the subsidy to be recycled for alternative affordable housing provision.

Social rented housing is owned by local authorities and private registered providers (as defined in section 80 of the Housing and Regeneration Act 2008), for which guideline target rents are determined through the national rent regime. It may also be owned by other persons and provided under equivalent rental arrangements to the above, as agreed with the local authority or with the Homes and Communities Agency.

Affordable rented housing is let by local authorities or private registered providers of social housing to households who are eligible for social rented housing. Affordable rent is subject to rent controls that require a rent of no more than 80% of the local market rent (inclusive of service charges, where applicable).

Intermediate housing is homes for sale and rent provided at a cost above social rent, but below market rent levels subject to the criteria in the affordable housing definition above. These can include shared equity (shared ownership and equity loans), other low cost homes for sale and intermediate rent, but not affordable rented housing.

Homes that do not meet the above definition of affordable housing, such as “low cost market” housing, may not be considered as affordable housing for planning purposes.”

Housing White Paper: Fixing our Broken Housing Market (February 2017) Department for Communities and Local Government

Box 4: Proposed definition of affordable housing (p100)

Affordable housing: housing that is provided for sale or rent to those whose needs are not met by the market (this can include housing that provides a subsidised route to home ownership), and which meets the criteria for one of the models set out below.

Social rented and affordable rented housing: eligibility is determined with regard to local incomes and local house prices. Affordable housing should include provisions to remain at an affordable price for future eligible households or for the subsidy to be recycled for alternative affordable housing provision.

Social rented housing is owned by local authorities and private registered providers (as defined in section 80 of the Housing and Regeneration Act 2008), for which guideline target rents are determined through the Government’s rent policy. It may also be owned by other persons and provided under equivalent rental arrangements to the above, as agreed with the local authority or with the Homes and Communities Agency.

Affordable rented housing is let by local authorities or private registered providers of social housing to households who are eligible for social rented housing. Affordable Rent is subject to rent controls that require a rent of no more than 80% of the local market rent (including service charges, where applicable).

Starter homes is housing as defined in Sections 2 and 3 of the Housing and Planning Act 2016 and any subsequent secondary legislation made under these sections. The definition of a starter home should reflect the meaning set out in statute at the time of plan-preparation or decision-taking. Local planning authorities should also include income restrictions which limit a person’s eligibility to purchase a starter home to those who have maximum household incomes of £80,000 a year or less (or £90,000 a year or less in Greater London).

Agenda Item 10

Affordable Housing Supplementary Planning Document
November 2017

Discounted market sales housing is housing that is sold at a discount of at least 20 per cent below local market value. Eligibility is determined with regard to local incomes and local house prices. It should include provisions to remain at a discount for future eligible households.

Affordable private rent housing is housing that is made available for rent at a level which is at least 20 per cent below local market rent. Eligibility is determined with regard to local incomes and local house prices. Provision should be made to ensure that affordable private rent housing remains available for rent at a discount for future eligible households or for alternative affordable housing provision to be made if the discount is withdrawn. Affordable private rented housing is particularly suited to the provision of affordable housing as part of Build to Rent Schemes.

Intermediate housing is discount market sales and affordable private rent housing and other housing that meets the following criteria: housing that is provided for sale and rent at a cost above social rent, but below market levels. Eligibility is determined with regard to local incomes and local house prices. It should also include provisions to remain at an affordable price for future eligible households or for any receipts to be recycled for alternative affordable housing provision, or refunded to Government or the relevant authority specified in the funding agreement. These can include Shared Ownership, equity loans, other low cost homes for sale and intermediate rent (including Rent to Buy housing).

APPENDIX J: SMALL RESIDENTIAL DEVELOPMENTS AND HOUSING NEED IN CRAWLEY

Planning Practice Guidance: Planning Obligations

Paragraph: 031 Reference ID: 23b-031-20161116

Are there any circumstances where infrastructure contributions through planning obligations should not be sought from developers?

As set out in the Starter Homes written ministerial statement of 2 March 2015, starter homes exception sites should not be required to make affordable housing or tariff-style section 106 contributions.

There are specific circumstances where contributions for affordable housing and tariff style planning obligations (section 106 planning obligations) should not be sought from small scale and self-build development. This follows the order of the Court of Appeal dated 13 May 2016, which give legal effect to the policy set out in the written ministerial statement of 28 November 2014 and should be taken into account.

These circumstances are that;

- contributions should not be sought from developments of 10-units or less, and which have a maximum combined gross floorspace of no more than 1,000 square metres (gross internal area)
- in designated rural areas, local planning authorities may choose to apply a lower threshold of 5-units or less. No affordable housing or tariff-style contributions should then be sought from these developments. In addition, in a rural area where the lower 5-unit or less threshold is applied, affordable housing and tariff style contributions should be sought from developments of between 6 and 10-units in the form of cash payments which are commuted until after completion of units within the development. This applies to rural areas described under section 157\(1\) of the Housing Act 1985, which includes National Parks and Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty
- affordable housing and tariff-style contributions should not be sought from any development consisting only of the construction of a residential annex or extension to an existing home

Revision date: 16 11 2016

The Crawley Borough Local Plan was prepared at a time of changing national planning policy in relation to affordable housing development thresholds. In November 2014, a Written Ministerial Statement introduced a threshold for size of development below which affordable housing contributions should not be sought. On this basis, residential developments of ten dwellings or less, or which have a maximum combined gross floorspace of no more than 1000sqm, should not have to provide affordable housing or 'tariff style' S106 contributions. This was challenged successfully in the High Court (31 July 2015), ruling the statement was unlawful. However, in May 2016, the Court of Appeal overturned the High Court Judgement. The 2016 Judgement concluded that all four grounds of appeal succeeded and the appeal was allowed. This effectively re-instated the Written Ministerial Statement of November 2014, and the Planning Practice Guidance (PPG) was amended accordingly to reflect national government policy in relation to this matter. Both the Written Ministerial Statement and the Planning Practice Guidance form Material Considerations against which planning decisions must be made.

Crawley Borough Local Plan Policy H4, which has no threshold for affordable housing contributions, was supported by the Local Plan Inspector and adopted between the two Court decisions.

The Court of Appeal Judgement allows for flexibility in the application of the national policy, in confirming it forms a material consideration but doesn't override statutory legislation:

Agenda Item 10

“The policy stated in the WMS was not to be faulted on the ground that it did not use language which indicated that it was not to be applied in a blanket fashion, or that its place in the statutory scheme of things was as a material consideration for the purposes of s.38(6) of the 2004 Act and s.70(2) of the 1990 Act, and no more. It did not countermand or frustrate the effective operation of those provisions.”

Locally specific evidence (as set out in more detail in below) in relation to Crawley includes:

- the high affordable housing need;
- the borough’s constrained land supply; and
- the increasing reliance on smaller housing developments.

On this basis, it is considered that, as the Policy was considered by the independent Planning Inspector as part of the Local Plan examination in the context of the national position, and the modifications, both with and without the thresholds for affordable contributions, were consulted upon over three separate statutory public consultation periods, none of which generated any objections or concerns being raised by the house building industry, there is sufficient justification for the continuation of the adopted Local Plan policy to apply to all residential developments, regardless of size.

However, the council is mindful of the national intention to support the smaller house builder industry, through reducing “disproportionate burdens” affecting the viability and deliverability of small sites and the government drive to incentivise small house builders. Therefore, the Policy will be applied with consideration to addressing these concerns, particularly in relation to taking account of economies of scale and considering the way financial contributions are calculated and when they may be paid. More detail is set out in Part 4 of this SPD.

1. Crawley’s Housing Need:

Based on an independent assessment of needs in the strategic housing market area⁶ (the “SHMA”), it is clear that the underlying challenge of unaffordability of market housing (particularly entry-level) remains in the borough. Median prices in Crawley are 6% above the England average, with an increase from £184,000 in 2012 to £195,000 in 2013⁷.

The lower quartile house price to income ratio averages 7:1⁸. Whilst this is below the Housing Market Area and West Sussex average, it is substantially below the national (England) average (see Table 1).

56% of emerging households in Crawley are unable to afford to Affordable Rent at 80% of market rent values without further assistance, and that 31% of households would require assistance to be in a position to afford rentals set at Social Rent levels, which is based on the differential of local rent relative to local incomes, and 62% of households in Crawley are unable to purchase market housing, based on the differential of local prices and rent levels relative to local incomes.

As well as having a significant requirement for affordable rented accommodation, Crawley also has a large need for “intermediate” affordable housing, such as shared ownership/shared equity schemes and discount market renting, with 64% of those interested already living within the borough and 53% of those interested presently working within the borough. The SHMA also identifies the at least 20% and up to 30% of affordable housing across the housing market area should be provided as intermediate housing.

Crawley has a very important role in the sub-regional economy, and has been identified as being well located to support the delivery of economic growth. Much of the workforce in the lower-paid, but essential, posts also reside within the borough. This forms a critical relationship with the housing stock. A reduction in the supply of affordable housing would exacerbate the current under supply and would provide a disincentive for business relocation to the area. This is recognised by the Coast to Capital Local Enterprise Partnership as a fundamental issue facing the region. Its Strategic Economic Plan recognises that there are currently 50,000 people on the waiting list for social housing, and identifies delivery of housing and infrastructure as a strategic priority: “there cannot be sustainable economic growth without housing growth. If there are shortages of housing to rent or buy, at affordable prices, it is more difficult for employers to attract and retain workers that they need to grow their businesses and makes it hard for younger newly-qualified people to come to the area to live” (page 17).

2. How well Crawley is performing against Affordable Homes Target:

Against this council’s best efforts to deliver affordable housing through a range of means, including council own-build, the period between January 2013 and March 2014 shows a growing deficit of 383 affordable homes when assessed against the number of new applicants coming onto the Housing Register and the number of applicants housed.

It remains incumbent on the council to seek affordable housing through every available opportunity in its obligation towards meeting housing need, and smaller windfall sites have the potential to provide a steady supply of affordable housing while also ensuring improved integration of tenures across the borough.

3. Extent to which small sites are necessary to achieving Target:

The administrative boundaries of Crawley are drawn tightly around the town, with very little land falling outside of the Built-Up Area Boundary (BUAB). The M23 motorway forms the administrative boundary to the east of the town, and to the south, lies the High Weald Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB). To the west, a new neighbourhood is being commenced and to the north of this the land adjacent to the borough boundary leads to open countryside within Horsham District. Gatwick Airport is located to the north of the town; constraining the land between the north of the town and the airport through safeguarding requirements for a potential second runway and unacceptable noise levels for residential uses.

Crawley was designated as a New Town in 1947 and has had continual phased development of neighbourhoods, each with their own centre offering retail/employment and community facilities. A number of the newer neighbourhoods (Maidenbower, Bewbush and Broadfield) have more limited capacity to provide additional housing, given the higher density of new housing within these neighbourhoods which offers a more efficient use of land with less potential for infilling with larger housing developments. This is evident in the council’s Urban Capacity Study (2012).

A number of smaller housing schemes have been delivered on brownfield sites in the past five years and have come forward predominantly from the older residential neighbourhoods of Crawley close to the town centre such as Southgate, Northgate and Three Bridges, where the older residential stock is more susceptible to redevelopment either through the conversion of residential dwellings or offices, or through the demolition of existing buildings and garden land and the construction of new dwellings.

The large sites within the borough boundary are finite and the land available for housing is limited. Therefore, in future, there will be far greater reliance on small sites to help meet Crawley's housing needs. The Housing Trajectory for the Local Plan anticipates 55 dwellings per annum to come forward through windfalls over the Plan period. These will predominately be on smaller sites not possible to identify through our extensive urban capacity study or reflected in our Strategic Housing Land Availability Assessment. The importance of small sites particularly in low delivery years can be seen in the monitoring year 2012/13 during which they formed 68% of permissions. This will be increasingly the case over the Plan period as the known and allocated larger sites within the borough are developed.

4. Whether small sites deliver significant levels of Affordable Housing:

The contribution these sites make to delivering the essential housing supply is increasingly critical, and without the proportionate contribution for affordable housing, where viability allows, the ability of the council to even partially address its unmet affordable housing need is limited further.

Had affordable housing been required from the schemes set out in Table 2 above, the equivalent of over 80 houses would have contributed to addressing Crawley's unmet affordable housing need⁹. As expressed above, the increasing reliance on smaller housing developments will increase the percentage of affordable housing contributions.

5. Evidence Affordable Housing Contributions will not hamper small scale developments:

In line with guidance set out in the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF), paragraph 50, bullet 3, Crawley Borough Council's emerging Local Plan seeks to address the identified affordable housing need, and in line with the NPPF's paragraph 173, an independent Viability Assessment has been carried out to advise on whole-plan viability, affordable housing viability and Community Infrastructure Levy. The results from this have directly fed into the considerations for new Local Plan policies on affordable housing.

The Viability Assessment considered that all development remains viable across the borough with a 40% affordable housing provision and a 10% low cost requirement. It was not found that smaller developments had greater levels of viability constraints; and, contrary to this assumption, the smaller developments have, in fact, been shown to have greater levels viability.

⁹ Crawley's Core Strategy, which formed the adopted planning policy for the borough until the adoption of the new Local Plan in December 2015, contained a policy (H5) which required affordable housing from only developments above the threshold of 15 dwellings (or greater than half a hectare in size).

Agenda Item 10

Table 4: Maximum Residential CIL Rates per sqm¹⁰

Greenfield	£469	£485	£474	£554	£548

In light of this, it was not possible to argue through Examination for the new Local Plan that an arbitrary threshold of continuing the 15 dwelling application from the previous Core Strategy policy was justified or supported by evidence: as it would not be in conformity with the NPPF's requirement to meet both market and affordable housing needs as far as possible to do so.

Having an affordable housing requirement on all residential developments, regardless of scale, also ensures parity in land values, rather than a situation where land vendors of smaller sites benefit from the absence of affordable housing. In addition, any commuted payments received from these smaller developments will assist in securing affordable housing on larger schemes that may experience viability constraints.

In the case of Crawley, all evidence has shown that it is not the case that affordable housing requirements on small sites prevent development this. Therefore, the national restriction on securing affordable contributions from schemes of 10 units or less goes against the Viability work undertaken at a local level to support the council's Local Plan. The Local Plan Policy H4 allows for viability on a site-by-site basis to be taken into account as part of the negotiations and allows for a relaxation of the requirement in certain circumstances where this is shown it would prejudice development from coming forward, and where the overriding benefits of the development justify its approval. This clause continues to apply to small housing developments and the council has provided specific advice for small scale developers to ensure requirements for viability assessment are proportionate.

It considered there are such strong local factors which relate specifically to Crawley, both in the national, regional and local context, which require a different approach to the national position. On this basis, addressing the disproportionate burdens and incentivising smaller housing development should be considered through the implementation of the Policy requirement, at a local level as part of negotiations with developers on planning obligations. Factors which will be taken into account will include:

- Support and guidance on viability assessments;
- Taking into account economies of scale;
- The way financial contributions are calculated; and
- When the financial contributions may be paid.

Furthermore, Crawley's Community Infrastructure Levy (CIL) rate has been set at a lower level than any figures provided by the Viability Study, at £100/sqm, in order to reflect the priority of affordable housing within the borough and to reduce the burden on developers and reduce the risk of any development not progressing. There were no objections to the CIL rate at examination and the CIL Inspector concluded the range of sites tested was thorough and comprehensive, with affordable housing cost assumptions modelled at the full Crawley Borough Local Plan level and tenure mix (40% affordable and an additional 10% low cost housing), and that the evidence confirmed that the proposed CIL charge could be readily accommodated, alongside the affordable housing cost assumptions, and did not pose any risk to scheme viability.

Glossary

Term	Abbreviations	Definitions ¹¹
Affordable Housing	AH	Social rented, affordable rented and intermediate housing, provided to eligible households whose needs are not met by the market. Eligibility is determined with regard to local incomes and local house prices. Affordable housing should include provisions to remain at an affordable price for future eligible households or for the subsidy to be recycled for alternative affordable housing provision. See also: Affordable Rented Housing; Intermediate Housing; and Social Rented Housing.
Affordable Housing Scheme	AHS	The Affordable Housing Scheme is a comprehensive statement that is required in all residential planning applications setting out the affordable housing consideration with supporting information that will form part of the S106 Agreement or Unilateral Undertaking.
Affordable Private Rented Housing	APR	Affordable Private Rented Housing is an affordable tenure that may be considered in a Private Rented Scheme or Build-to-Rent scheme where rents are discounted to a fixed percentage below open market rent levels and made available to people with a local housing need that cannot afford to rent on the open market. This tenure option does not necessarily require the involvement of a Registered Provider and will cease to be a recognised affordable tenure if the scheme ceases to be a Private Rented Scheme at which time the discounted rented properties will revert to Affordable Rent Tenure with a Registered Provider.
Affordable Rented Housing		Affordable rented housing is let by local authorities or private registered providers of social housing to households who are eligible for social rented housing. Affordable Rent is subject to rent controls that require a rent of no more than 80% of the local market rent (including service charges, where applicable).
Affordability		The extent to which something is affordable, as measured by its cost relative to the amount that the purchaser is able to pay.
Assured Shorthold Tenancies	AST	It is a form of assured tenancy with limited security of tenure usually restricted to 6 or 12 month periods, giving each party the right to reconsider the tenancy at the end of each agreed period.
Build to Rent		Large-scale residential developments purpose-built for private market rent, also referred to as Private Rented

Discounted Market Sale Housing		This is a form of Intermediate Tenure within the Affordable Housing definition where there is a discount made available to qualifying buyers that remains with the property for future purchasers, in perpetuity, which is either protected by covenant or by second-charge on the Title. If at any time the discount is capitalised then this will result in a commuted payment back to the Local Planning Authority.

Term	Abbreviations	Definitions¹¹
Residential Care Homes		Residential homes are often referred to as care homes and provide personal care such as help with getting dressed, washing and other day-to-day tasks. A number of older people live together and are cared for by care workers. In some cases it may allow people to live independently while getting the care and support they need.
Self-Build and Custom Housebuilding		The building or completion by or on behalf of specific individuals or associations of individuals, of houses to be occupied as homes by those individuals

S106 Agreement		An agreement under Section 106 of the Town and County Planning Act which contains legally enforceable obligations to mitigate the impact of development proposals.
Shared Equity		Shared Equity allows a buyer to purchase up to 80% of the value of a property. The remaining unsold equity is then held by a third-party, usually the council if secured through planning obligations, which may in some cases off-set part of the deposit requirement, thereby assisting qualifying buyers to acquire their first home.
Shared Ownership		With shared ownership, a person part-buys and part-rents a home from a housing association, allowing them to take out a much smaller mortgage with a smaller deposit requirement than if they were buying the whole property. Shares of between 25% and 75% of a property may be purchased under shared ownership.
Sheltered Housing		Sheltered housing (also known as retirement housing) means living independently within a scheme where all the residents are usually over 55, and where basic levels of support may be provided.
Small Residential Developments		Identified in the Crawley Borough Local Plan Policy H4 as those residential developments of 5 dwellings or less or on sites of less than 0.5ha in size. Identified in the Planning Practice Guidance as being of 10-units or less and which have a maximum combined internal gross floorspace of no more than 1000sqm.
Social Rented Housing		Social rented housing is owned by local authorities and private registered providers (as defined in section 80 of the Housing and Regeneration Act 2008), for which guideline target rents are determined through the national rent regime. It may also be owned by other persons and provided under equivalent rental arrangements to the Starter Homes		This is a new tenure being introduced that aims to assist qualifying first time buyers and in Crawley this tenure would be considered to meet the Low Cost Home Ownership requirement.

Supplementary Planning Documents	SPD	Documents which expand upon identified Local Plan policies to provide more detailed guidance on how the policy should be interpreted and applied.
Tenures		Tenure refers to the conditions under which land or buildings are held or occupied. Forms of tenures broadly relate to rent or intermediate tenures.
Tenure Blind		This relates to the appearance of properties which should be indiscernible from one tenure to another to encourage integration and to standardise build standards.
Tenure Split		Affordable housing provision usually requires a particular tenure split which determines the percentage of each respective tenure and the tenure split can be adjusted to assist with scheme viability when appropriate.
Unilateral Undertakings		Under section 106 of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (TCPA 1990), a person with an interest in land can enter into a planning obligation either with the agreement of the council or through a unilateral undertaking. This standard document is a unilateral undertaking to agree to certain planning obligations. The council is not a party to the document.

Affordable Housing

Summary Guidance Document for Small Residential Developments

Supporting the Crawley Borough Local Plan 2015-2030 and the Affordable Housing Supplementary Planning Document

November 2017

Agenda Item 10

Introduction

Crawley Borough Council has produced the consultation draft Affordable Housing Supplementary Planning Document (SPD) to support the Crawley Borough Local Plan policies which relate to the provision of affordable housing:

- Policy H4: Affordable and Low Cost Housing
- Policy H3: Future Housing Mix

The Policy requirement applies to all new residential developments, where these result in the development of at least one new housing unit. This includes:

- ▶ Conversions (including dwelling houses to flats);
- ▶ single new dwelling houses; and
- ▶ larger residential developments.

This summary document provides a simplified overview of the requirement and the information set out within the Local Plan and Affordable Housing SPD for assisting in the application of the Policy requirement for small residential developments. However, the SPD contains more detailed guidance on the issues covered here and should be used if more information is needed.

Crawley Borough Local Plan Policy Context

The Local Plan policy requirements are set out below:

- ▶ The provision of 40% affordable housing from all new residential developments.
- ▶ This is expected to be provided in the form of 70% Affordable Rent, or Social Rent where other forms of subsidy exist, and up to 30% Intermediate Tenure.
- ▶ For developments of 5 dwellings or less, or on sites of less than 0.2ha in size, a commuted sum towards off-site affordable housing can be provided in lieu of on-site provision.
- ▶ For schemes of 15 dwellings or more and additional 10% low cost housing will be sought, offering a discount for first-time buyers.
- ▶ Where viability is a concern, and can be suitably evidenced, the council may apply a cascading approach to prioritise the affordable housing expectations in order to assist scheme viability.

Affordable Housing Supplementary Planning Document (SPD)

The Affordable Housing SPD seeks to clarify the implementation of the Local Plan Policy by:

- a. Providing clear guidance on how the council will interpret Local Plan policies for affordable housing;
- b. Providing advice in relation to the expectations in relation to meeting the Policy requirement, for the different stages of planning applications: pre-applications, submission of application, determining planning applications, and post-permission;
- c. Setting out design, layout, tenure split and dwelling size mix expectations;
- d. Highlighting the thresholds at which affordable housing will be expected on-site;
- e. Setting out the exceptional circumstances in Crawley and the evidence which justifies contributions from small sites;
- f. Establishing the mechanism for calculating off-site payments in-lieu, including an inbuilt discount for small schemes;
- g. Outlining the mechanisms that will be used to assess viability;
- h. Clarifying the preferred types of tenure and the 'cascade' options in the event of viability constraints.

Agenda Item 10

Affordable Housing Contributions and the Planning Application Process

Pre-Application Stage:

Applicants, agents and developers are encouraged to seek pre-application advice prior to the formal submission of development proposals, and it is essential that consideration is given to incorporating Policy H4 into a policy compliant scheme early in the pre-application process.

Submission of Planning Application Stage:

All Full applications for residential development must be accompanied by an Affordable Housing Scheme, which should set how the affordable housing requirements compliant with the Crawley Borough Local Plan 2015-2030 and further detailed in the Affordable Housing SPD will be met.

If an application does not include an Affordable Housing Scheme the application may not be registered and will be returned to the applicant.

Once the Affordable Housing Scheme is agreed with the Local Planning Authority and Strategic Housing and Planning Services, this will form the Heads of Terms for the S106 Agreement.

The Affordable Housing SPD provides an example Affordable Housing Scheme in Appendix A and an example S106 Agreement for small, simple developments is provided in Appendix E.

For Outline applications, the detail in relation to the Affordable Housing Scheme may be able to be provided as part of the Reserved Matters application stage. In this case, the Outline application should be accompanied by an Affordable Housing Statement outlining how the affordable housing requirements will be met.

Planning Application Stage:

The Local Planning Authority will consider whether the information submitted in the Affordable Housing Scheme is adequate and accurate. This must include consideration of:

- Affordable Housing quantum, tenure split and unit mix;
- Type of Provision – on-site provision, or financial contribution in lieu of on-site provision;
- Where on-site provision is being made, details of the:
 - Site plan showing tenures (rented and intermediate);
 - Floor plans showing room sizes and storage capacity;
 - Car parking plan showing allocations across tenures;
 - Phasing plan showing the delivery of the affordable housing;
 - A schedule of accommodation showing number, size (GIFA), number of rooms, number of bed-spaces, type of dwelling, and tenure of units;
 - The process for appointing a suitable Affordable Housing Provider (more detail can be found in Part 5 and Appendices E, F, G and H of the Affordable Housing SPD).
- Any Viability Statement or Viability Assessment seeking to vary the Affordable Housing contribution (more detail can be found in Part 4 and Appendix B of the Affordable Housing SPD).

The S106 Agreement, or Unilateral Undertaking, will preferably be finalised and ready for completion prior to the determination of the application. Where this is not possible, Heads of Terms will at least need to be agreed in time for the Planning Case Officer to include this in the report to Planning Application Committee or Delegated Officer Report.

Agenda Item 10

Tenure Options

On smaller schemes of 10 units or less the starting point will be to establish the capital value of the expected affordable housing contribution using the Affordable Housing Calculator. This will determine the commuted sum payable on schemes of 5 residential units or less, unless the applicant wishes to consider on-site provision whereby the approach detailed below will also apply.

For schemes in the range of 6 to 10 residential units, the capital contribution established by the Affordable Housing Calculator for on-site provision will be modelled by the council to determine the most appropriate on-site use of this resource to address local housing needs while taking into account practical considerations and constraints.

The council's options would then be to apply the capital value across the available affordable housing units as either Discounted Market Sale or Shared-Equity, which would not require the involvement of a Registered Affordable Housing Provider.

Alternatively, with the involvement of a Registered Affordable Housing Provider, the options available to council would then include either Shared-Ownership or Affordable Rent.

The council may choose to apply this capital value over fewer affordable units than are due in order to improve the affordability of the affordable units.

Small Developments

Due to Crawley's specific circumstances (as set out in Appendix J of the Affordable Housing SPD), the Local Plan policy and local evidence justify the expectation that affordable housing contributions should be sought from all new residential developments, regardless of size, unless viability constraints indicate the requirements cannot be supported.

However, the council is mindful of the national intention to support smaller house builders, through reducing "disproportionate burdens" affecting the viability and deliverability of small sites.

As a result, the Affordable Housing Calculator has an in-built sliding scale discount, to ensure the required contribution remains proportionate and viable for smaller developments. Timing of the payment of the financial contribution has also been adjusted to take account of cash-flow pressures.

In addition, as part of Planning Applications, more simplified submissions will be accepted in support of smaller housing developments, in relation to:

- The Affordable Housing Scheme;
- S106 Agreement; and
- Any Viability Assessment.

Early discussions with the council's Strategic Housing and Planning Services is recommended. Advice and support can be provided in relation to the submission requirements and policy-compliance.

Development Size	Expected Requirement
One to Five New Dwelling Units	Submission of an Affordable Housing Scheme. Affordable Housing Calculator to calculate off-site commuted payment. If on-site provision preferred, this must be agreed with the council early.
Six to Ten New Dwelling Units	Submission of an Affordable Housing Scheme. Affordable Housing Calculator will determine the value of contribution for on-site tenure options. Off-site payment in lieu only considered in exceptional circumstances.

Agenda Item 10

Procedures for Commuted Sum Payments

The Affordable Housing Calculator can be found by accessing the following link:

- Affordable Housing Calculator

Generally, the council will expect the following to be included in the S106 Agreement or Unilateral Undertaking with respect to the procedures for making commuted sum payments:

- The formulae as applied in calculating the value of the affordable housing contribution for off-site provision, as at the date of the application or the date of the Planning Committee resolution.
- Indexation from the date of the Resolution to Grant or Unilateral Undertaking until the date of payment. Indexation will be on an annual basis in accordance with the Retail Price Index.
- Normally, for schemes of one to ten dwellings payments shall be made on occupation of the first property. For schemes of 11 dwellings or more, the payment schedule will be 50% on commencement and 50% upon occupation of the first market units, unless otherwise agreed. Indexation will continue until the final payment is made.
- The S106 or Unilateral Undertaking must indicate the milestones that trigger payment, and the applicant is to notify the council when the payment trigger is reached. On receipt of the notification, the council will issue an invoice for the amount payable including any indexation. Penalty interest to be payable on late payments.
- The council will have 10 years in which to spend the capital contribution. The council may spend the capital contribution in any part of the borough, or within adjacent developments where the council secures nomination rights to affordable housing, for the provision and/or improvements to affordable housing.

Viability Assessments

In the case of smaller housing developments, where there are anticipated viability issues, the applicant is advised to contact the Local Planning Authority at an early stage to discuss ways of addressing the requirements for providing affordable housing.

Where viability may alter the contribution from that indicated by the Affordable Housing Calculator, to accord with the Local Plan Policy, the council will request a Viability Statement, which shall include the following information:

- a) A summary of acquisition costs;
- b) A summary of anticipated development costs;
- c) A summary of assumed income from sales, also showing assumed or actual offers from Registered Providers (where applicable);
- d) An indication of the perceived funding shortfall that prevents the scheme from being policy compliant and meeting the full Affordable Housing contribution.

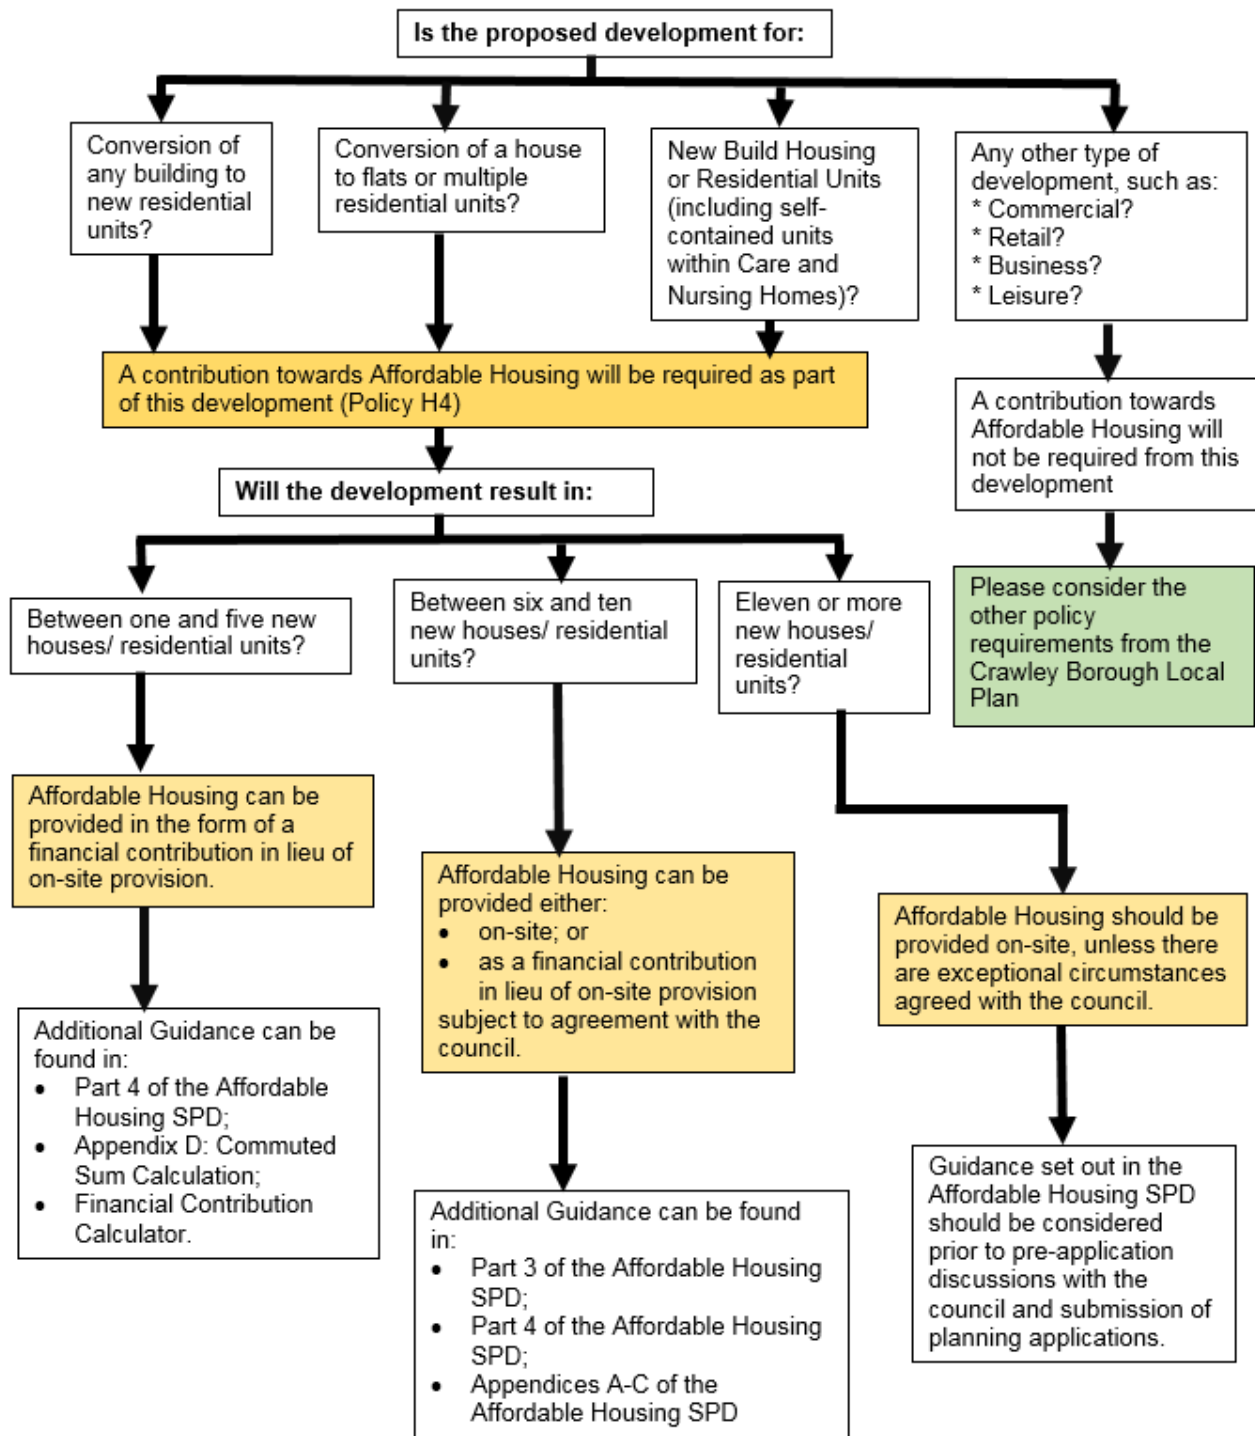

If a viability or delivery problem is accepted, the council will seek to test the viability by exploring other viability enhancements, and will consider:

- i. Varying mix/tenure split;
- ii. Varying payment timing; and/or
- iii. Reducing percentage of affordable housing and/or applying a lower sum to the off-site calculation.

More detail on Viability Assessments (including Viability Statements and Viability Appraisals) can be found in Part 4 and Appendix B of the Affordable Housing SPD.

CRAWLEY BOROUGH COUNCIL

AFFORDABLE HOUSING SUPPLEMENTARY PLANNING DOCUMENT

REGULATION 12 CONSULTATION STATEMENT

November 2017

1. Introduction

- 1.1. This Statement has been prepared in accordance with the Town and Country Planning (Local Planning) (England) Regulations 2012, and Crawley Borough Council's Statement of Community Involvement (SCI) (2017). It also has regard to the requirements of the National Planning Policy Framework (2012).
- 1.2. Regulation 12 of the Local Planning Regulations requires that before a local planning authority adopts a Supplementary Planning Document (SPD) it must prepare a statement identifying the persons who have been consulted in the preparation of the document, the main issues raised by them, and the manner in which these have been addressed. The present document is that statement. An earlier version was made available alongside the SPD for the purpose of seeking representations as part of a public consultation and has been updated accordingly.
- 1.3. The council's SCI requires that local planning documents be subject to a period of 'early engagement' prior to formal consultation, providing opportunities for interested stakeholders and individuals to feed into the preparation of the document. In setting out the details required by Regulation 12 as mentioned above, this document provides a summary of the 'early engagement' process and the formal consultation.

2. Involve: Stage 1 – Early Engagement

- 2.1. Early in October 2015, the council contacted all those parties who had previously asked to be kept informed about the progress of the Crawley Borough Local Plan¹, highlighting the fact that the council proposed to produce a group of SPDs across a range of identified topics, including affordable housing. Those contacted were invited to sign up for further updates in relation to particular topics, and directed to a page on the council's website providing further information about the function of the SPDs and their proposed scope. The web page also invited interested parties to respond to nine broad questions about their coverage and approach.
- 2.2. Alongside this engagement with contacts from the council's Local Plan database, invitation was sent to members of the council to express their interest in particular SPDs. The SPDs and the associated web page were also publicised via the council's main web page.
- 2.3. In response to these communications, a number of parties, including external stakeholders and council members, confirmed their desire to be kept up to date with progress with the SPDs, including the Affordable Housing SPD. No responses were received in relation to the Affordable Housing SPD regarding the nine broad questions mentioned above.

Agenda Item 10

- 2.4. On 20 January 2016, a seminar was held for all council members at which the proposed focus and approach of each SPD currently being worked on was summarised, and questions and comments were invited. Issues of particular interest to the Affordable Housing SPD focused on the need to promote the positive benefits of affordable housing, and why providing it as part of new development is a good thing. The current policy relating to no threshold for affordable housing requirements being triggered was clarified. These have been taken into account in preparing the SPD.
 - 2.5. Concurrently with these engagement exercises, a number of internal and external stakeholders were invited to provide comment on individual SPDs where the council considered that their expertise would be particularly valuable in the early drafting work. Development Management raised a number of points, emphasising that guidance should be clear and usable to ensure that planning applications are supported by relevant information and that developers are aware of the policy expectations. Discussions have also considered the approaches available to address the disproportionate burdens for small housing developments and to provide simplified guidance for developers of small sites.
- 3. Consult: Stage 2 - Publication
- 3.1. A formal stage of public consultation was undertaken on a draft version of the Affordable Housing SPD. The draft document was available for representations over a six week period between 21 June 2017 and 2 August 2017. This consultation was undertaken in accordance with Regulation 12. (b) of the Town and Country Planning (Local Planning) (England) Regulations 2012, and the council's Statement of Community Involvement.
 - 3.2. The SPD is accompanied by a Summary Guidance Document for Small Residential Developments. This does not form part of the SPD, nor is it intended to have the same status in relation to the planning process. It is nonetheless intended to complement the SPD and provide helpful guidance to developers of small sites. On this basis, it was included within the consultation both in order to clarify the scope of the SPD on this issue and to enable representors to comment on it in its own right, or highlight areas the documents did not address.
 - 3.3. All consultees included on the council's Local Plan consultee database were emailed or written to with notification of the commencement of the consultation. In addition to this, Registered Providers and Affordable Housing contacts were consulted separately, and the council's known contacts of small house builders and agents who practice in Crawley. A reminder email was circulated to targeted consultees highlighting the close of consultation date. The consultation materials are set out in Appendix B of this consultation statement.
 - 3.4. During the consultation period, the draft Affordable Housing SPD was available to view online at www.crawley.gov.uk/crawley2030. Paper copies of the documents were available at the Town Hall and Crawley Library during normal office hours.
 - 3.5. The consultation draft SPD included a number of specific questions to aid the consultation process. These were set out within the document, both throughout the text and together at the end of the document for reference. They are replicated in Appendix B(1) of this consultation statement. Responses did not have to be restricted to answering the questions and comments were welcomed on any part or aspect of the draft SPD or Summary Guidance Document.

Representations Received

- 3.6. Representations had to be provided in writing. This could be done either by emailing the Forward Planning team or by post. Representations received during the consultation period are set out in tabular form in Appendix C. The council's response to the comments received are provided in the same table, this includes reference to where the representation received have led to changes in the final SPD.
- 3.7. Responses were received from statutory stakeholders², local residents and interested planning agents. Representations received considered matters including a concern that viability issues will reduce the number of affordable housing units secured, promotion of a particular rent to buy model of housing tenure.
- 3.8. A concern was also raised in relation to the application of the policy to extra care and other forms of care development. This has been carefully considered by the council. The approach in the SPD takes into account the concerns raised through the consultation and addresses them in accordance with the detailed responses set out in Appendix C to this document.
- 3.9. No representations were received raising concern in relation to the proposed financial contributions calculator nor the application of the policy below the national threshold of ten dwellings or less.

APPENDIX A: EARLY ENGAGEMENT MATERIALS

1. GENERAL CONSULTATION QUESTIONS

The following questions are being asked to feed into the early stages of scoping the SPDs:

Q1: Do the topics identified cover the main areas requiring additional guidance?

Q2: Are any of the topics considered unnecessary?

Q3: Are there any additional topics which haven't been identified as a Supplementary Planning Document which the council should consider?

Q4: Are the policies identified to be covered by the SPDs appropriate?

Q5: Should any of the policies be addressed in a different SPD to that identified in the table?

Q6: Should policies only be covered by one SPD rather than considered by each relevant topic area?

Q7: Are there other policies in the Crawley Borough Local Plan 2015 – 2030 (Crawley 2030) that haven't been identified which should be considered for inclusion in one of the SPDs?

Q8: Should the SPDs focus solely on statutory planning policy guidance or should they provide best practice examples and to provide advice and suggestions beyond the remit of planning policy, within the topic area?

Q9: Do you have any other, strategic comments on the scope and remit of the SPDs for consideration at this stage?

Further detailed questions will be asked relating to each of the topic areas in due course.

Crawley 2030: Supplementary Planning Documents

Crawley Borough Council is commencing work on a number of Supplementary Planning Documents (SPDs) to expand upon the policies established by the Crawley Borough Local Plan 2015 — 2030: Crawley 2030.

Topic Areas

The SPDs will not make new planning policy, but will aid the interpretation and implementation of the new Crawley Local Plan once it is adopted as the council's primary Planning Policy document. The topic areas being considered for SPDs are:

- Affordable Housing
- Climate Change
- Design
- Green Infrastructure
- Planning Obligations
- Town Centre

These SPDs will eventually replace the existing suite of supplementary planning guidance notes and some of the other SPDs. Manor Royal SPD and Design Guide will remain a council adopted document, as will Development of Gatwick Airport SPD.

The extent to which the SPDs provide guidance and expansion of the Local Plan policies will vary and will depend upon whether it is concluded that additional information adds value, beyond that which is already provided.

Some of the Policies are currently proposed to be covered by more than one SPD, the information will not be repeated and will only be in the most relevant SPD to the principle behind the policy objective. However, it is acknowledged that there will have to be clear cross-referencing to ensure there is no confusion caused, duplication, inconsistency or omissions.

Who are they for?

The SPDs will be aimed at individuals and companies who wish to make a successful planning application. This will include:

- Householders
- Businesses
- Landowners

Why do we need SPDs?

The SPDs will seek to provide guidance for applicants to meet the policy requirements set by the Local Plan, and offer information as to what is expected at each of the key stages relating to the making of a planning application:

- Pre-application;
- Submission & validation;
- Planning application;
- Post-planning permission.

Where relevant, the SPDs will clarify what is required for the following types of planning application:

- Householder
- Change of Use
- Residential Development
- Non-Residential Development
- Shop Fronts
- Advertisement Consents

Involvement and Engagement

If you are interested in being involved and kept informed on the progress of the SPDs please contact Forward Planning with your name and contact details, along with the topic area, or areas, you are interested in. You are welcome to be engaged in as many or as few of the SPDs as you would wish to be.

We welcome your views on the following questions.

General Consultation Questions

Q1: Do the topics identified cover the main areas requiring additional guidance?

Q2: Are any of the topics considered unnecessary?

Q3: Are there any additional topics which haven't been identified as a Supplementary Planning Document which the council should consider?

Q4: Are the policies identified to be covered by the SPDs appropriate?

Q5: Should any of the policies be addressed in a different SPD to that identified in the table?

Q6: Should policies only be covered by one SPD rather than considered by each relevant topic area?

Q7: Are there other policies in the Crawley Borough Local Plan 2015 – 2030 (Crawley 2030) that haven't been identified which should be considered for inclusion in one of the SPDs?

Q8: Should the SPDs focus solely on statutory planning policy guidance or should they offer best practice examples and be used to provide advice and suggestions beyond the remit of planning policy, within the topic area?

Q9: Do you have any other, strategic comments on the scope and remit of the SPDs for consideration at this stage?

Further detailed questions will be asked relating to each of the topic areas in due course.

Next Steps

The Local Plan policies remain subject to modification depending on the outcome of the Planning Inspector's final report into the Crawley Borough Local Plan.

Consultation on the draft SPDs will take place following the receipt of this, and after the Local Plan has been formally adopted by the council by way of a resolution at its Full Council meeting. This is currently anticipated to allow for public consultation on the SPDs to be undertaken early in the New Year (2016).

 - e) Are there any further considerations the council should take into account in establishing the financial contribution requirement in conforming with the adopted Local Plan Policy?

Crawley 2030: Supplementary Planning Documents

Where further guidance relating to a specific Local Plan policy is required, it may be necessary to produce a Supplementary Planning Document (SPD). SPDs may cover a range of issues, both thematic (for example green infrastructure) and site specific (such as the town centre opportunity sites). The primary function of the SPDs is to expand upon, and provide further clarity to specific policies set out within the Crawley Borough Local Plan.

SPDs will reflect national policies, as well as those set out within the Local Plan, and will be clearly cross-referenced to the relevant Local Plan policy that the document supplements.

Update: Public Consultation 21 June 2017

Public consultation is now taking place on the following Supplementary Planning Document (SPD):

- » Affordable Housing

The guidance in this SPD is relevant to anyone who wishes to develop new residential property, from a single additional dwelling to large residential schemes. The Local Plan affordable housing policy (Policy H4) applies to all planning applications which would result in a net increase in housing within the borough. It also applies to the provision of new residential care and nursing homes and care villages.

The Affordable Housing SPD includes information relating to the procedures and requirements for the provision of affordable housing as part of a planning application and provides guidance on alternative arrangements, including Viability Assessments and the calculation for financial contributions in lieu of on-site provision. A summary document containing guidance for small residential developments is available separately.

The documents are available to view using the links below and in hard copy at the Town Hall and the borough's libraries during normal office hours.

Council's Response:

Stephen G. Coppen		However many 'affordable homes' are agreed to, it's a dead certainty that the developers will get the numbers reduced citing 'viability issues' as the reason they are unable to deliver. Even if that didn't happen (but we know it will), the paltry few that are finally available won't even put a dent in the numbers of poor overcrowded and homeless unfortunates (how many thousands, now ?) languishing year after year after year on the housing register list. Crawley Council needs desperately to grab the bull by the horns and work together with Horsham to bring forward the land West of Ifield where the Homes and Communities Agency holds 320 acres of land, most of which they want to see developed ASAP to help solve the appalling housing crisis being experienced by young people and families.
----------------------	--	--

Council's Response:

Comments noted. Viability is a legitimate planning reason for negotiation to take place from applicants on proposed affordable housing levels. This is clear in the NPPF and established in the Crawley Borough Local Plan Policy H4.

Due to the front-loading of housing delivery anticipated to come forward within Crawley borough, along with the construction of Kilnwood Vale neighbourhood contributing 150 dwellings per year from within Horsham district (in accordance with the Horsham District Planning Framework), the borough’s objectively assessed housing need is being met by planned developments in and close to the borough’s boundaries until at least 2025/2026. Beyond this, Crawley Borough Council is working closely with both of its neighbouring Sussex authorities (Horsham and Mid Sussex District Councils) who together with Crawley form the Northern West Sussex Housing Market Area in exploring opportunities for meeting the overall Housing Market Area’s housing need in sustainable locations.

Tetlow King Planning		We represent Rentplus, a company providing an innovative affordable housing model that delivers affordably rented homes to buy (a ‘rent to buy’ model) for people who aspire to own their own home, but are currently unable to save for a mortgage deposit. Enclosed with this consultation response is an Affordable Housing Statement by Tetlow King Planning setting out the model’s compliance with the NPPF definition of affordable housing and how this should be incorporated into local plans to boost supply and meet local needs. We ask that this be read alongside our representation so that the Council’s approach to negotiating affordable housing takes into account this innovative model which has the capacity to improve delivery and to meet high levels of local housing need and aspirations of home ownership. Rentplus delivers rent to buy housing that meets local peoples’ needs and aspirations across England, in partnership with local planning authorities and Registered Providers. Those developments provide homes at an affordable rent for those expecting to purchase in 5, 10, 15 or 20 years. Analysis of recently completed developments has shown that around 30% of those moving into new Rentplus schemes left existing social and affordable rented properties, releasing those homes for families in greater need. Local people in those areas have also been able to leave private rented accommodation and parent’s homes, gaining independence and security of tenure in high quality new housing. This allows people to overcome the mortgage deposit ‘gap’ by saving towards this while renting an affordable rent at 80% of open market rent (including any service charge) or Local Housing Allowance (whichever is the lower). The model would deliver clear benefits to households in Crawley who are unable to afford to buy and cannot currently save towards a future purchase. The SPD recognises the need for such tenure in the finding of an acute level of relative unaffordability for entry-level market housing as a result of “continued difficulties for many households to secure housing finance and increased deposit borrowing requirements” (paragraph 2.16). Households are encouraged to save for the duration of the tenancy period, and are gifted a 10% deposit by Rentplus at the time of purchase to assist with mortgage finance. The nature of the product means that households currently in social rented or affordable rented properties, or on the Housing Register seeking such housing, may be more appropriately accommodated in a rent to buy home, freeing up those homes for those in greater housing need.

		Changes to National Affordable Housing Planning Policy We welcome the introduction of this SPD following the publication of the various Government consultations on proposed changes to national planning policy. As recognised in this section of the SPD, the aim of these proposals has been to maximise the delivery of affordable housing across the country and to widen the opportunities of all to access housing that meets their needs - including aspirations for home ownership. Rent to buy was specifically raised in the 2015 consultation on proposed changes to national policy, and again in this year’s housing White Paper, Fixing our Broken Housing Market which stated: “This includes Rent to Buy homes alongside shared ownership, which will enable thousands of households to access home ownership through a product that fits their circumstances. Rent to Buy will help hard-working households to benefit from a discounted rent set flexibly at levels to make it locally affordable so they can save for a deposit to purchase their home.” (Paragraph 4.28) We note that the Council will “consider schemes which conform to the definitions within the latest formally published NPPF definition, within the adopted tenure split” (paragraph 2.24). It is important however to ensure the Council keeps pace with the emerging policy position, supporting schemes that seek to help local people into housing that meets both their needs and their aspirations of home ownership. As Crawley has a clear need for housing that enables households to save towards a deposit, the SPD should explicitly support models, including rent to buy, that will meet those needs. Our comments above apply in relation to Question 1; we ask that the Council consider setting out more clearly its support for a wide range of affordable housing tenures that respond to local housing needs by explicitly allowing for rent to buy.
		In response to Question 3, we suggest that the Council acknowledge that Registered Providers, including those not ‘known’ to the Council, can provide affordable housing in Crawley. Rentplus works directly with locally active affordable housing providers to deliver and manage rent to buy housing in individual local authority areas, ensuring that housing is actively managed by RPs with a wealth of experience and knowledge of that area. This is also done in partnership with the local planning authority; as set out in the attached Affordable Housing Statement, Rentplus invites the LPA to enter into a Memorandum of Understanding which sets out each party’s clear

		commitment to working together to deliver more affordable housing for local people. Where a developer brings forward proposals that include affordable housing we suggest that the Borough Council encourage applicants to engage with a wide range of affordable housing providers.
		Tenure Split Following our earlier comments, we strongly suggest that this section also include rent to buy, most helpfully under Rental Tenures (paragraph 3.10). We recommend the following text: d) Rent to Buy is housing that is made available at a rent level which is at least 20% per cent below local market rent (including service charges where applicable) and later made available to the tenant living in the property to buy at a cost which may be less than market value. This meets the needs of house buyers who cannot initially afford a mortgage deposit but who will be able to save while renting affordably; the council supports this to address local affordability issues. We do not recommend placing rent to buy under Intermediate Tenures (paragraph 3.11) as the product is not a shared ownership or shared equity product, and unlike low cost market housing households are able to save towards full purchase of their home (with a gifted deposit) while renting the same home. The latest English Housing Survey (2017) found that 1.5 million households across England cannot afford to rent or buy, and the majority of these are under 35 and working full time. The rent to buy model reduces the need for multiple house moves, from rental accommodation to home purchase, as well as bridging the mortgage deposit gap that puts so many households off saving. In response to Question 6, we ask that the Council make the above amendments to the SPD, supporting the delivery of a wider range of affordable housing models to specifically target local housing needs and to address the considerable affordability gap in Crawley.
		Alternative Arrangements As set out in the accompanying Statement, the delivery of rent to buy housing as part of mixed tenure schemes can improve the viability of developments that may otherwise struggle to deliver affordable housing, and can deliver a more diverse tenure mix. In line with adopted Policy H4 this section of the SPD expects 40% affordable housing and 10% low cost market housing, but it should also recommend that a diversity of tenure will be supported where this will improve the overall supply of affordable housing.

Council's Response:

- 'Rent-to-buy' is not considered to be a tenure, but rather a 'model' which ultimately delivers an ownership product. It would not be appropriate to explicitly mention 'rent-to-buy' in the SPD as it is one of many 'models' available in the market.
- Accordingly, it would not be appropriate to include rent-to-buy as an option in "Tenure Split". Fundamentally, the most desirable Rental Tenure is that of Social Rent set at target rent levels, followed by Affordable Rent at 80% of market (incl. of service charges) where in both cases qualifying tenants "who aspire to own their own home" have to option to exercise their Right-to-Buy (RTB) which offers a far greater 'discount' than that which may be offered by a 'rent-to-buy' provider.
- In addition, Discounted Market Rent is acceptable at council's discretion on a site-by-site basis as it addresses a very particular need within a PRS setting, and which will revert to social or affordable rent in the future. It is considered that 'rent-to-buy' also addresses a very limited need, and could be considered on a site-by-site basis against evidenced need.
- In the case of Social or Affordable Rent, where RTB is exercised, there is a capital sum that is safeguarded 'in perpetuity' for the provision of new affordable housing, and stair-casing from Shared-Ownership or Shared-Equity also brings about the perpetuity of recycled grant. This is not the case with 'rent-to-buy', where firstly there is an expectation (not an option) to purchase the property and there is no mechanism to retain any capital gains in perpetuity for the further provision of affordable housing. In addition, similar to Low-Cost-Market-Housing or Starter Homes any 'discount' that may or may not be offered is a windfall to the purchaser, making it very similar to this Low-Cost category of quasi-affordable housing as addressed in the SPD.
- As TKP suggests, 'rent-to-buy' would assist scheme viability. The SPD acknowledges that higher levels of subsidy (or cross-subsidy) is required to deliver social rent, and then affordable rent, and that the SPD allows for "viability enhancements" when faced with viability constraints. It would therefore be logical to introduce 'rent-to-buy' as a potential option to improve scheme viability as one of the "viability enhancements" in council's armoury, when required.

| | | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The council does not support TPK’s suggestion it should accept affordable housing providers “not known” to Crawley, and who have no knowledge of the local housing market and no proven affiliation to addressing local housing needs or any knowledge of local policy. The council needs to protect relations with established RP’s within this region in order to develop working partnerships and attract their investment capital. In addition, particularly when rental accommodation is involved, it is imperative that RP’s have a local management presence. • RP’s who are locally active in the area can offer a rent-to-buy ‘model’ directly, and in so doing offer a more diverse tenure mix, and possibly at more affordable levels with greater prospects of any capital gains being reinvested in the local area. • The SPD is explicit in its endeavours to meet local housing needs, and acknowledges the challenges of raising the necessary deposit and addressing the affordability gap, as is suggested by TKP, which the council believes is addressed through the recognised affordable housing tenures along with the affordable models that are available in the market, which includes Help-to-Buy, Build-to-Rent, Rent-to-Buy, LCHO, Starter Homes, etc., which is broadly allowed for to address any specific need, but the greatest need is for rental accommodation for those on the Housing Register who are in reasonable preference. • ‘Rent-to-buy’ can be considered as one of many available models, and there is nothing in the SPD that would restrict it from being considered as an affordable housing product on a limited scale in the cascade of viability options available to the council. |

In due course please explain the manner in which these comments have been addressed as per Regulation 12 of the Local Planning Regulations. Introduction These comments are made on behalf of my clients Richmond Care Villages Holdings Limited. They have a land interest in Crawley. My client wishes to object to this draft SPD in relation to how it interprets policy H4 of the development plan i.e. the Crawley Borough Local Plan 2015 – 2030 adopted in December 2015 where it relates to the application of this policy to C2 extra care and other forms of care development. This objection relates to paragraph 2.9 (as well as other relevant sections) where it says the following: “2.9 Individual, self-contained units, even where these accommodate occupants receiving care and/or are restricted to occupancy over a particular age and/or are located within a complex which includes some C2 (nursing home) rooms, will still need to meet the requirements of affordable housing. AFFORDABLE HOUSING SUPPLEMENTARY PLANNING DOCUMENT

		The reasoning (where it exists) is so flawed and the justification so weak that it is hard to believe that anyone could find this meaning in the wording of H4, its accompanying text or the evidence that was produced to form that policy as interpreted within this SPD. It is worth pointing out that the text on the website from the consultation page says the following. “The guidance in this SPD is relevant to anyone who wishes to develop new residential property; from a single additional dwelling to large residential schemes. The Local Plan affordable housing policy (Policy H4) applies to all planning applications which would result in a net increase in housing within the borough. It also applies to the provision of new residential care and nursing homes and care villages”. This wording is flawed and misleading because the actual document (as reproduced above) says that H4 applies to “..residential care and nursing homes..” whereas the actual document says that it only applies when those types of homes or care uses which have self contained units. This is an indication of the confusing nature of the Council’s interpretation of policy H4 as expressed in the SPD. We have enclosed a legal opinion from Jeremy Cahill QC a leading planning advocate from July 2016. This opinion has been with the Council for a long period of time now and was formed when my clients were engaged in a pre application process. It was then submitted with the planning application CR/2016/0972/FUL. It has never been answered or responded to by the Council. This opinion answers the specific question of whether policy H4 applies to the development of care home beds and/or extra care dwellings falling in the C2 use class. The findings are so fundamental and in my view unarguable that I am astonished that the SPD takes no notice of this document, which they have had for many months, and yet perpetuate the continued clearly incorrect view on the application of H4 to “..care and nursing homes (Use Class C2) where they include self-contained units”. It is unusual, verging on the incredulous, having had access to that opinion that the SPD does not even attempt to explain or respond to the fundamental flaws in the argument which this opinion exposes.

Preliminary Matters

The consultation includes a range of questions. Given our that objection relates to the application of policy H4 to C2 Extra Care and care developments in general many of these questions do not apply and are not relevant. It is of note that none of the questions ask if the Council’s interpretation of H4 is considered to be correct. It is unusual for an SPD

		not to ask the fundamental question – Is the interpretation of policy H4 contained in this document correct? Without such a question I believe general non-professional readers will not even be aware that this is an issue they can comment on and should consider. In my view it makes the consultation flawed Because of the comments we are making below we can say that we are answering question 15 relating to other issues or areas of the Local Plan Policies relating to the provision of Affordable Housing that need further clarification. The document correctly says at 1.1 that an SPD “...does not set new planning policy”. It could go on and say, which it does not, that this document will not be part of the statutory development plan although like many other matters and issues it can be a material consideration. The NPPF explains that “Supplementary planning documents are capable of being a material consideration in planning decisions but are not part of the development plan”. I would suggest that the words “are capable” of course also mean that they are also “not capable” of being a material consideration for a variety of reasons which would include being flawed in their reasoning and preparation. There is no independent examination of this document and if in due course it is approved it remains purely the views Council and nothing more. How representations have been taken into account and answered will inevitably contribute to the validity and weight of the document when it is being considered by decision makers. The point being made here is that simply because the Council adopt a SPD does not mean that they become development plan policy or that another party’s opinions or views can be overruled when those views and opinions are correct. This is particularly the case when they are obviously justifiable with reference to national policy, case law and any rational consideration of the development plan. Having explained that the SPD cannot set new planning policy we should be clear what this means. The SPD cannot extend policy H4 into types of developments or areas that a rational, objective and informed reader would reach yet that is precisely what the Council is in my view doing. It is seeking to correct a failing in the formation and wording of policy H4 and seeking to apply a provably perverse meaning to the policy that simply does not exist beyond an objective reading of policy H4.
--	--	---

		The SPD and Care Development The entire justification and explanation of applying policy H4 is contained within paragraph 2.9. Nothing else in the whole of the SPD addresses the issue being raised here i.e. applying policy H4 to C2 care development.

		That wording explains self contained units (with no definition of what this actually means) will need to meet the requirements of affordable housing even if occupants are receiving care and are restricted by age. This also applies when the wider complex contains classic nursing home rooms in the C2 use class. The wording then goes on and explains that sheltered and extra care in the C3 class will be required to provide affordable under policy H4. I have no argument with that point and agree but also hope the Council understand that extra care can be C2 or C3 and the term “extra care” is not definitive of use class. 2.9 then goes on and says that in additional to C3 sheltered and extra care the policy also applies to care and nursing homes where they include “self-contained units” and again with no explanation or definition of what that term means. So from this it appears the Council view (we have had confirmation this is the case related to our planning application) is that the classic care home beds, whether these be residential or nursing, do not come under the policy but that units which come under the undefined term “self-contained units” do come under policy H4. While we disagree with this view we would ask that, on a without prejudice basis, the Council should at the very least properly explain and consult on what they mean by “self-contained units”. The care industry is dynamic and fast moving reacting to high levels of older people with increased levels of dependency. Various models of accommodation and care are emerging on a regular basis. Huge efforts are being made in design and layout to ensure that even high dependency care homes are more homely and less institutional. It is not unusual to see modern high dependency care homes have small number of flatlet type units or suites (contained with the registered premises) with a small kitchen and living room and then a separate bedroom and washing facilities. They exist for many reasons which can include people who maybe passing away with space for a relative to stay, a person on the road to recovery to learn independent living, assessment of independence abilities, a response to a medical condition like depression and space for a relative to help in care. Do these units come under the term “self-contained units”?
		Policy H4 and C2 Development We have reproduced in full the text of policy H4 as an enclosure and also the reasoned justification (often called the accompanying text). There is no mention of C2 uses in the policy wording or the accompanying text. Such text in any event does not have the status of the policy wording itself. Please refer to the legal opinion on the status of accompanying text but in any event the text contains nothing on C2 extra care uses.

		It must be an agreed point that there is no justification or explanation in the development plan of how the statutory wording includes C2 development. Because of this we have no justification or explanation to argue with and dispute on how this policy is being expanded beyond its meaning, contrary to case law and national policy, because there is no mention of C2 development that can be argued with or disputed. The only explanation from our previous correspondence and interactions with the Council is that three words of the statutory policy mean that this proposal is covers C2 development. These three words are “all residential developments”. The Council’s interpretation of those words is the only justification that any party can have that this applies to C2 development. In my view that wording and use of “all” exists because the policy applies to all numbers of C3 dwellings (even a single dwelling). This is to make it clear that the national government threshold of 10 dwellings does not apply in this Council area. That is obviously and demonstrably why the policy says “all”. The policy even goes to mention “dwellings”. Again make reference to the legal opinion submitted. Dwellings are obviously C3. C2 extra care is obviously and categorically not dwellings as clearly indicated by numerous planning appeals with good examples being North Somerset 2168918, Stratford on Avon 2037666 and Tunbridge Wells 3161379. If we do however take an overtly literal reading of the policy which the Council are applying and accept that “all residential development” means every single type of residential development and not just C3 dwellings, even though the policy goes onto say and use the term “dwellings” then we end up with a ridiculous and preposterous situation. This would, on an objective reading of the policy as required by case law and national guidance, mean that anything of any kind that could be called residential would be required to provide affordable. This would be ridiculous.
		However we already know that policy H4 does not apply to “all residential development” because the Council has said in writing that it does not apply to classic traditional care homes. The SPD itself implies this. The Use Classes Order 1987 as amended defines residential developments and divides them into 4 sub classes. C1 is hotels, boarding and guest houses. C2 is includes things like care homes, hospitals, nursing homes, boarding schools, residential colleges and training centres. C2A are secure institutions and C4 is Houses in Multiple Occupation. You have other uses that can be described as residential like student housing and holiday units that fall outside the category. Clearly policy H4 does not apply to these uses yet if we take the peculiar literal reading of the policy which the Council are using then they must apply. If the policy does not apply to these uses then the SPD should explain why

		it does not but it does not do this which is a significant and fundamental oversight given that the SPD says that its purpose is to explain the “..expectations of the council in relation to the interpretation of the Local Plan policy”. Without this explanation what is excluded from “all residential units” it fails in this task. Although we have little explanation of what “self-contained units” means in paragraph 2.9 we still need to address this as best we can. What exist in a C2 extra care scheme as “self-contained units” are not self contained but instead they are part of a single planning unit. The simplest way to explain this is to turn to that North Somerset appeal 2168918 at Portishead. In that decision it recognises that the third Burdel principle is the most relevant (Burdle v Secretary of State for the Environment [1972] 3 All ER 240) to establish the planning unit. We have to look at whether, within a single unit of occupation, two or more physically different and distinct areas are occupied for substantially different reasons. The Inspector, very correctly in my view explains his response to the Council’s argument which deals with mixed use and indeed self containment: “20. On their own, and looked at in isolation, I have no doubt that each of the apartments is capable of being seen as falling squarely within Use Class C3, because they would provide all the necessary attributes of a separate dwelling. However, it is necessary to look at the interrelationship between the apartments and the rest of the building, and this goes beyond the physical arrangement, and involves an examination of the use of the separate parts and the building as a whole” Just because units have the appearance of being able to be self contained does not mean that they are C3 units. That is, with all due respect, a simplistic argument. As was said in previous correspondence with the Council physical appearance is not definitive of the Use Class. A betting shop, in terms of layout and appearance, looks much the same as a bank but that does not mean they are in the same class. A hotel looks quite similar to a care home but that does not mean they are the same use class. This appeal, alongside many others, explains that the pure physical appearance is not definitive and that you can move on and look at the operational side that can be controlled via condition and legal agreement through negotiation if necessary. These issues around self containment seem un-arguable to me yet the SPD seems to be saying just because something happens to look like a dwelling or a self contained unit then the affordable policy applies. That makes no

		sense and is so simplistic that is hard to believe the Council think that this “view” somehow changes and expands the meaning of H4 beyond any objective reading of its actual wording. These points on their own are enough in my view for any rational person to read policy H4 and see that it does not apply to C2 extra care. Resemblance to a independent unit of accommodation is common with many other types of residential buildings such as new build holiday units, a caretakers accommodation on a large employment site, hospital/school/staff accommodation in an employment use and student accommodation and so on yet there is no argument from the Council in their SPD that H4 applies to these. We can however go beyond these points above and look at the formation of policy H4. Our enclosed legal opinion points out the importance of viability testing and issues around that. But I can add that in reaching the interpretation the Council have they are setting aside the importance of the process of forming the policy and what this means. I would particularly refer the Council to para 173 of the NPPF: “Pursuing sustainable development requires careful attention to viability and costs in plan-making and decision-taking. Plans should be deliverable. Therefore, the sites and the scale of development identified in the plan should not be subject to such a scale of obligations and policy burdens that their ability to be developed viably is threatened”. In fact they have done the opposite of this. When C2 care was considered in the viability work for CIL and affordable housing it was shown that C2 was not viable for CIL payments. No affordable percentage was applied to C2 development in that testing process and no testing was carried out of any C2 extra care development. The Council have not done the work required to reach the interpretation they have of H4 and C2 extra care development. They have not shown or considered the impact of applying affordable housing to C2 extra care. Therefore the policy cannot apply to this C2 development. The viability work that was done on C3 dwellings is not relevant to us and our proposal because C2 extra care is an entirely different financial model with large non saleable communal areas, setting up a large staff group to provide services and care as well as the very different funding and return processes. The Examiner says in the recent North Somerset report on CIL the following things which prove this point that C3 viability assessments are not transferable to C3 extra care:

		“67. The submitted CIL includes a proposed rate of £40 psm for C2 uses across all three charging zones in North Somerset. The point is made by representors that C2 extra-care housing is significantly different to general market housing in terms of structure and funding. Firstly, the funding streams for C2 schemes are generally provided up front by the provider, and with this comes an element of risk. In addition, a significant proportion of the total development floorspace is set aside for care and communal facilities. I was informed that these additional communal areas can typically lead to the net floorspace being around 55% to 60% of the gross floorspace, as evidenced by the Corby CIL Viability Study, which stated within its Executive Summary that: “care homes, extra care housing and other residential institutions are unlikely to be sufficiently viable to absorb any CIL contributions”. 68. Furthermore, evidence was presented that in several cases, the „extra-care“ dimension of C2 accommodation involves the setting up of an integrated care team on the site, together with specialist equipment, all of which is expensive and needs to be in place from the outset. These considerations all point to a fundamentally different viability model to C3 housing schemes”. 69... the Council’s proposed CIL charge for C2 uses cannot be described as ‘robust’, which is a requirement of the PPG”.
--	--	---

		Conclusions The Council’s interpretation of policy H4 contained in this draft SPD is incorrect and flawed. It is very difficult to see how such a view can be reached. I would refer to our enclosed legal opinion paragraph 7 where it quotes a case that says Councils “..cannot make the development plan mean whatever they would like it to mean”. Due to the lack of viability work in the policy and numerous other reasons, such as the lack of any mechanism of how you apply affordable to a C2 development in the formation of the policy or the adopted text of the policy, the viewpoint that H4 applies to C2 extra care is really beyond any credible interpretation. We must also consider whether there is a development plan policy basis in this case for requiring a contribution for affordable taking it into account compliance with the Community Infrastructure Levy (CIL) Regulations 2010. Clearly with no evidence that the Council’s interpretation of policy H4 was formed or examined in any way similar to the North Somerset CIL examination is clear evidence that the Council interpretation cannot be credible.

Council’s Response:

The council has carefully considered this representation. The final SPD has been amended accordingly to remove reference to application of the Policy to residential institutions housing people in need of care and nursing homes (Use Class C2) and to provide further explanation to the definition of Use Class C3 in the context of extra care units:

Paragraph 1.2:

1.2 The guidance in this SPD is relevant to anyone who wishes to develop a new residential property; from a single additional dwelling to large residential schemes. The Local Plan affordable housing policy applies to all planning applications which would result in a net increase in housing within the borough. It also applies to the provision of new extra care housing where this has the basic characteristics of a dwellinghouse³. ~~residential care and nursing homes and care villages~~. A summary document containing guidance for small residential developments is available separately.

Paragraph 1.6:

1.6 The SPD seeks to provide clear advice based on current information and expectations. However, it is written in a time of continuing change, with limitations to public expenditure, restrictions to the affordable housing funding regime, and changes to housing benefits and tenancies. In addition, further changes to planning policy through an updated National Planning Policy Framework are anticipated, including in relation to guidance and expectations in provision of housing for the aging population. ~~It seeks to provide clear advice based on current information and expectations.~~ This SPD will be updated if a new Local Plan policy approach is adopted through a formal Local Plan Review. ~~Details of how the council intends to respond to known changes in the interim period are set out, where relevant, in this SPD below.~~

Paragraph 2.9:

2.9 The need for affordable provision within residential (Use Class C3) schemes to meet the Crawley population’s needs has been accepted. This recognised need covers all sectors of the population, including the growing numbers of elderly people. Therefore, individual, self-contained dwelling (Use Class C3) units, including flatted development, will still need to meet the requirements of affordable housing, even where these accommodate occupants receiving care and/or are restricted to occupancy over a particular age. ~~Some of these C3 dwelling units could be and/or are located adjacent to or within a wider site complex which includes some C2 (residential care/nursing home) rooms, will still need to meet the requirements of affordable housing. Viability will be addressed on a case-by-case basis, in accordance with the policy requirements.~~ Provision for affordable housing will therefore be expected from all dwellinghouses (Use Class C3), including Sheltered assisted living and extra-care accommodation schemes (Use Class C3), and residential institutions housing people in need of care and nursing homes (Use Class C2) where they include self-contained units.

Colin Maughan		Thank you for providing me with your two latest supplementary planning documents to comment on – Affordable Housing. These documents are dense and complex, and I have a few comments on a dozen or so pages, but I think I will start by writing you a letter off the top of my head, while the contents of your reports are fresh in my memory. Crawley Borough Council may well be one of a minority of local authorities that still provides housing to meet needs in its borough (at present called “affordable housing”). Sheffield for example, another council I know something about, is trying to restore its devastated urban centre by building student residences – a response to the dubious growth in the business of “university” education, no doubt. Incidentally, the building regulations, which if adhered to ensure that tower block living is a pleasant, safe and satisfactory method of housing, do not apply to student residences. This state of affairs needs urgent attention. As the British economy seems to rely precariously on our arms industry, tourism, and the sale of homes and cars (that people cannot afford) it is difficult to avoid the suspicion that a shortage of houses to buy or rent is maintained in order to keep prices unduly high. In fact there is a lot of empty property. Much accommodation over shops remains empty due to lack of a separate access outside or behind shops, and much new accommodation is built as an investment with little or no intention of it ever being occupied. In social terms this is surely a crime. Similarly the Right to Buy is without question a ploy to assist the building industry, and it seems to be unique to Britain. Elsewhere, especially in Europe, renting property works very well, and is not an unduly expensive method of housing like ours. Ours leaves people in poverty or working unduly long hours. For the foreseeable future we will have to tolerate a system where social responsibilities have been overtaken by the profit motive and as was recently demonstrated in the Grenfell Tower fire, a sound planning system has been high-jacked for the benefit of developers, and property sold entirely as an investment.

		When I worked with architects and planners in the 1960s, Leicester City Council avoided reliance on developers and employed its own direct labour force. In addition to having a large public housing portfolio it also built the first new theatre in Britain since World War One (designed by my architect colleague Peter Forbes). This alternative approach to building development reminds me that I haven't read anything in these reports about housing trusts like the Peabody and the Guinness, and I wonder if these alternatives have been explored in the efforts to close the housing gap.
		Recent Governments have made it clear that they are not satisfied with current planning legislation, and they wish to change it. they have not been very specific, but it's taking thirty-five years to get the trains to run once the Channel Tunnel was completed might have been mentioned as an example of bureaucracy dragging its feet. The council's reports may not be the right place to deal with such issues but several modern tendencies, if pursued with undue vigour, populism, targets and managerialism* in general are killing the "patients". *Managerialism; probably inherited from the Civil Service, and much aided by the use of computers, is killing our services, teachers, nurses, the police and firemen. The mention of Leicester Council's policies above reminded me that non-conformism makes people unpopular. As soon as I began to read the Affordable Housing reports, I wondered about "Unaffordable Housing" (all other housing, presumably) and asked myself where their contents would entirely conform with the present Government's aim to channel our people to having larger debts, resulting from buying houses and cars. Stitching themselves up, in other words, due to an innate tendency to conform with the majority who behave like sheep. Unfortunately, the all too successful marketing of people's largest investments wouldn't leave enough of their income to spend on high quality food and clothing, so these are imported and sold too cheaply to support industries in this country. I visited one of our local woodyards recently, and there was not one piece of sound timber, apart from recycled railway sleepers. Our forestry industry has been ruined in recent years, and the move to a throw-away, wasteful society has resulted in the opening of huge landfill sites.
		One of my neighbours, who has lived here for at least fifty years, said "These houses are not suitable for modern living" (Shrublands). She couldn't be more mistaken, but I know that Crawley Council finds that tenants in its housing often expect a council makeover to give them the latest trendy kitchen, regardless that the one they have is as good as new.

	Page 15	Page 15 of the main Affordable Housing report deals with Design. I can't remember what was said in the earlier reports, but this section in Part 3 only covers the subject in a minimal planners' way, as compared with architects' concerns. As a result, densities, which are now sometimes unsatisfactorily large; security; privacy; quality of life (in cul de sacs for instance); outlooks from windows, gardens, hanging washing out; bonfires; noise from roads; aircraft, neighbours; tree planting; containment of cars for owners, tenants and visitors; vans; caravans; boats; communal space; exhibitionism of posh car owners who pave their gardens to show them off, resulting in flash floods and so on.
		Crawley council has been very successful in keeping to the New Town's original planners' and architects' design in keeping to Crawley's natural boundaries, and avoiding urban sprawl into the countryside. But recent developments between Crawley and Horsham have threatened to end this policy. Also the self-contained neighbourhoods concept is in danger of being lost. This could damage the convenience of nearby shopping and also increase the motor traffic as people in housing only schemes drive to shops, schools, libraries and churches. We already have serious daily traffic jams at peak times for schools and travel to and from work. Bus and taxi services are quite good (in poorly built buses) but train services at peak times and weekends are best described as Hellish. I have always worked in London, so I wouldn't come to live here now, unless I had retired.
		The report takes it for granted that one bedroom housing will always be in the form of flats. But it doesn't say why. The single bedroom houses in nearby Forestfield are excellent and anyone would like one.
		Increasingly, people are working from home, and when people are made redundant in middle age their prospects of finding another job are not always good. So they start their own firm. Also there are growing numbers of single parent families. I don't know, but I would have thought that these changes in society might bring in a need for homes with non-traditional layouts. My friends in Hackney for instance live in a scheme built for tenants requiring a workshop, so the housing has an industrial standard floor loadings and a three-phase electrical supply system suitable for machines.
		Anyone seriously interested in housing design could learn a great deal by examining this housing association scheme Shrublands and Forestfield in detail. For instance we all have front and back gardens, integral garage/workshops, rooms with windows in two walls, clear storey windows giving direct daylight on the first floor, toilets on both floors, almost all windows opening, entrances to the gardens back and front, space standards above the Parker Morris minimums, some larger houses having an internal courtyard, and so on. All the result of very careful design. As with prestigious housing the architects provided a maintenance manual, as with a motorcar.

		Housing of this standard dating from the 1960s, by Phippen Randall and Parkes, Walter Segal's self-build in South London, Eric Lyon's various span schemes and Z Bed in Sutton, have proved that a good home can be provided for about 33% of current house prices if the monopolistic companies are avoided. They use common building materials and components provided by similarly large players, like Marshall's. My house would have cost £2000 to £3000 in the early 1960s. Authorities like highway engineers and building inspectors also have a stranglehold on housing with their age-old dogmas, and lack of interest in the housing problem. One of the things we need to know even on the unsatisfactory houses on offer is the cost of building compared with the "rental" price. This information will be available routinely to insurance companies involved in setting claims on written off houses.
		One of the mixed blessings characteristic of our existing planning laws and building regulations is "zoning". This leads to an almost complete separation between housing and industry. The Crawley neighbourhoods have always combined both, but using largely imported Chinese components and materials.
		It has always been difficult to create a sense of community when the working class families, who are usually fairly sociable, live in one zone, and the middle class, who are not usually very sociable, live in another zone. This situation is beginning to change a little as long term empty offices in industrial estates are converted into schools and flats, resulting in an interesting mix, as in Europe.
		Although this report doesn't deal with Conservation Areas, some factors here apply to new developments in addition to questions of design in housing.
		There was a time when architects were involved in most or all work involving the built environment and they put up their red RIBA sign boards. Judging by appearances and the lack of architects' signs many developments now do not have the benefit of an architect's skills. They appear to come, like modern car and lorry design, straight from a mediocre computer programme.

		Not only this, but due to long-term failure in training people for the building trade, and the failure of the council's building inspectors, most of the seventy houses in the Shrublands "Conservation Area" have been ruined. I visited one of my neighbours last week who has had a kitchen make-over recently and his wheelchair has already destroyed the newly laid fancy wooden floor laid over the original concrete and plastic tiles.
		Similarly most of the mature trees on this scheme have been ruined by untrained men with chainsaws.
		Who is going to build all these new houses? I ask myself every day. Presumably skilled foreign workers, as with the long-term scheme in Queen's Square. Prime Minister Harold Macmillan is the only one I can remember who had any intention of solving Britain's housing problem. Most subsequent Governments have shown little or no concern about the country or its people.
		As I may have already said, this document is very thorough and impressive, but as were some of the previous reports, it will be difficult to access, and it would benefit from an index (regardless of the additional cost). The provision of a glossary on page 56 is very helpful, and the report in general is pleasingly readable and free of acronyms. The glossary doesn't include the "clustering" dealt with on page 16. I assume this includes buildings with common/party walls and possibly common foundations. One of the minor problems with these homes in Shrublands is that common foundations increase noise levels and vibration. I imagine this wouldn't be too difficult to avoid on new schemes.
		If necessary, I could come back to you with minor editorial comments – for instance the unnecessary capitalisation in the Glossary entries. But that would be nit picking. For once a rule of if in doubt use a capital letter (rather than lowercase) works well. I think you may find something of use or interest in this quite long letter.

Council’s Response:

Comments noted. Some detailed responses to some of the particular points raised are set out below:

- The Local Plan or the SPD would not restrict any models that tick the box of meeting local housing needs at an acceptable level of affordability.
- The Urban Design SPD is a more comprehensive document in relation to the design expectations of all new development, regardless of tenure, this is cross-referenced in the Affordable Housing SPD (paras. 1.7 and 3.27). Paragraph 3.27 (page 17) of the draft Affordable Housing SPD is clear that affordable housing is expected to be accommodated at its maximum level and so external space standards should be implemented on that basis.
- The Tenancy Agreement usually restricts tenants from hanging washing on balconies, disturbing neighbours, etc.
- One-bed houses would be acceptable if offered, but it is not the most effective use of land, and the issue is actually to ensure that developers provide two-bed houses and not provided just two-bed flats, which is the intention of the wording.
- Trees are covered by the Green Infrastructure SPD.
- Clustering can be added to the glossary, although in this document it relates to the grouping together of small groups of affordable housing properties integrated within a wider scheme for ease of management and maintenance purposes for RPs. It does not relate to common foundations as referenced.
- Modern standards have very robust noise insulation standards between floors and party walls.
