1. Introduction

Crawley Homes takes a positive approach to complaints. Complaints alert us to improvements needed and encourage transparent and open communication with our customers where we have got things wrong. More importantly, they allow us to put things right when there has been service failure, and to rebuild trust where this has happened.

We work continually to refine our approach, scrutinise our performance and identify the wider action needed to address the root issues giving rise to complaint. Improved reporting systems allow this tracking and analysis, and we are held to account by our TLAP (Tenant and Leaseholder Action Panel) complaints handling scrutiny group, which has been in operation since 2022. Our approach aligns with the Housing Ombudsman's dispute resolution principles - be fair; put things right; and learn from outcomes - and we self-assess against the Ombudsman's code annually, in conjunction with our TLAP colleagues, adhering to the code before it became statutory this year.

We actively review and monitor complaints in a number of ways, through operational weekly meetings, resident scrutiny and at our senior and corporate management teams (SMT and CMT.) However, this is the first Annual Complaints Report we have produced that overviews data comprehensively over a period of a year. This enables us to find themes and trends, evaluate the impact of any improvements, learning and future actions in response to these.

The report will look at complaints handling performance against intended timescales and any patterns or key issues by stage, outcome, service and reason for complaint. It includes a full Complaints Service Improvement Plan, capturing learning from complaints throughout the year and suggestions for improvement from our Tenants and Leaseholders Action Panel (TLAP) complaints group. It also includes, in Appendix A, our completed self-assessment of compliance with the requirements of the Housing Ombudsman's Complaints Handling Code.

2. What data is included in this Report?

This report overviews stage one and stage two complaints from tenants, leaseholders and shared owners between 01 April 2023 and 31 March 2024, whose escalation would be to the Housing Ombudsman should they fail to be resolved by Crawley Homes.

Crawley Borough Council logs, monitors and tracks complaints through an automated system, with each step updated by the complaints handler. Any complaints made, whether in person, by telephone or online are handled this way. Any issues are initially logged as either service requests or complaints. Complaints and service requests related to Crawley Homes are sent to the relevant team once logged. Service requests have not been included in this review, as it focuses on complaints only.

In line with the Housing Ombudsman's Statutory code, there are two stages to our complaints process; stage one, followed by stage two if the customer is still dissatisfied.

Between 2023- 2024, we concluded 378 stage one complaints from or on behalf of tenants and leaseholders. A further 57 stage one complaints came from members of the public other than those directly using services provided by Crawley Homes. 48 complaints were escalated to stage two by or on behalf of tenants and leaseholders.

3. Performance against intended timescales

3.1. Timescales set.

The Housing Ombudsman’s Complaints Handling Code sets out timescales for responding to complaints. For the period covered by this report, these timescales were:

Stage one complaints
Acknowledgement of complaint	Within five working days of receipt
Resolution of complaint	Resolved within 10 working days of acknowledgement. Under certain circumstances, an extension of up to 10 working days can be requested

Stage two complaints
Acknowledgement of request for escalation	Within five working days of receipt
Resolution of complaint	Resolved within 20 working days of acknowledgement Under certain circumstances, an extension of up to 20 working days can be requested

3.2. Proportion resolved within timescale.

The proportion of complaints resolved within these timescales (including where an extension was granted was as follows:

3.2.1. Acknowledgements within five working days

All complaints are acknowledged immediately through Crawley Borough Council’s complaints tracking system. However, a more personalised acknowledgement with direct personal contact to clarify the nature and intended outcomes is then made within five days once the complaint has been sent to the correct service area.

3.2.2. Concluded within timescale 2023-2024 by stage.

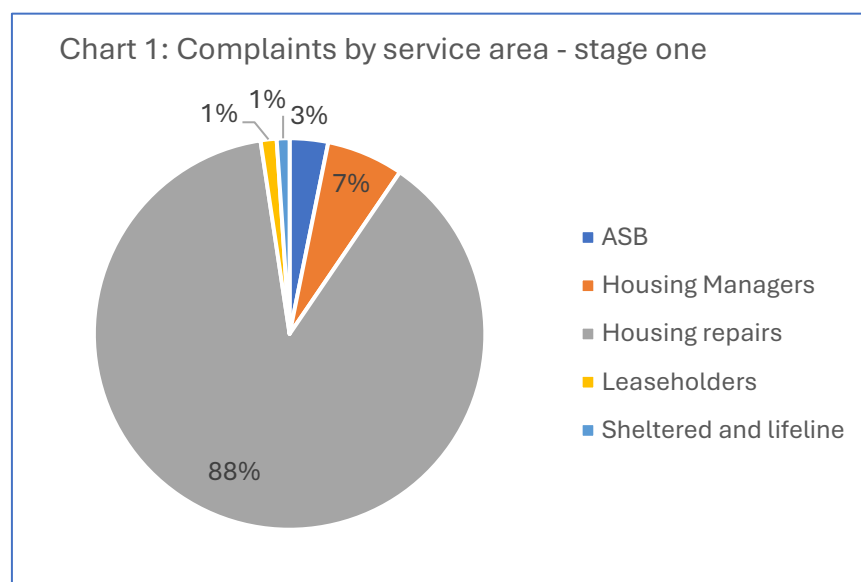

Type	Percentage concluded within target timescale
Stage one	48 %
Stage two	92 %

3.2.3. Number of complaints and percentage completed within timescale by quarter.

Quarter	Stage one Number of complaints	Stage one percentage within timescale	Stage two Number of complaints	Stage two percentage within timescale
Q1	90	47%	10	90%
Q2	91	45%	11	91%
Q3	101	38%	14	93%
Q4	96	61%	13	100%

Complaints handling performance within timescale at stage one was well below expectation, despite the systems and monitoring that are in place.

Reasons for this include significant staffing pressures throughout the year in responsive maintenance, and the departure of key complaints handling personnel in quarter three. This led to communications and quality control issues with deadlines being missed. A concerted effort to improve this performance did secure in improvement over quarter four, but again is well below target. Actions implemented and future actions to remedy this are set out in the Complaints Service Improvement Plan in section 10.

4. Complaints by Service Area

As would be expected, the majority of complaints received were related to housing repairs - both as a result of the very high number of customer-facing transactions (31,385 jobs were completed) and the impact on people's lives and daily activities.

Repairs-related complaints include those in tenants' homes as well as communal areas and exterior repairs affecting leaseholders. 333 repairs-related complaints were raised by, or on behalf of, tenants and leaseholders. This represents 1.06 per cent of all repairs completed during the year. Nonetheless, although the proportion may be small relative to the size of the operation, each had caused distress and inconvenience to the person concerned. To provide better customer care, it is essential to scrutinise the factors leading to complaint and make improvements. Improvements as a result of individual complaints as well as those that have been identified from complaint themes are set out in section 10. These include a number of process or systems improvements, information and communication and policy recommendations.

A useful comparison of complaint volume per service is the number of complaints received per 1000 homes (number of complaints / number of homes receiving the service x 1000).

Using this comparison, for housing management - the service attracting the second-largest volume of complaints - this is 2.3 per 1000 (tenants' homes only) compared to 33.7 complaints per 1000 for repairs (includes tenants and leaseholders affected by the service.) This does suggest the need for a closer look at the resources available to the repairs service to be able to offer the expected complaints handling standard. This has been addressed by a restructure of the team with a dedicated complaints manager due to be recruited in 2024.

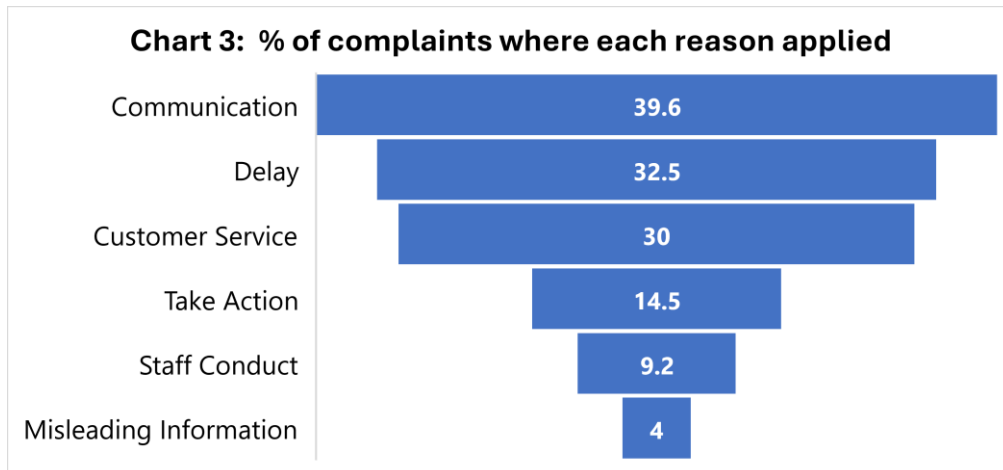

These complaints are further broken down by the specific team or area that the complaint related to below, Chart 2. As the chart suggests, there is significant pressure on surveyors, particularly those covering the South to resolve complaints on time, due to their volume being spread between a relatively small number of people with other workload pressures. Further work will need to be undertaken to capture patterns and trends at an earlier stage by root cause area, contractor and housing type throughout 2024, as there is a clear discrepancy between the number of complaints attributed to the South relative to other areas. With more comprehensive, regular monitoring, resources could be targeted earlier to resolve issues.

5. Reasons for complaint

5.1. Stage one

When a complaint is concluded, the main reasons for the complaint are logged by the handler under a series of categories. Multiple categories can be chosen, and many complaints are driven by a combination of factors. Those featuring most commonly are shown in Chart 3 below:

Communication and delays to service featured most strongly as reasons for stage one complaints, closely followed by dissatisfaction with customer service. Records do not always explain the reason for the poor communication, but further interrogation of these, on a case-by-case basis suggest that where communication was a factor, these were the main issues, in order of appearance:

Reasons for dissatisfaction with communication
Delay – not kept updated
Unattended appointments – not informed
UPVC – raised expectations
Lack of communication about planned works – other
No response to customer enquiry
Contractor attitude or behaviour
Call times
Staff attitude or behaviour

For each complaint, service improvements are identified and logged. Additionally, our Tenant and Leaseholder Action Panel (TLAP) complaints subgroup take a ‘deeper dive’ into the reasons for, and handling of, a cross section of complaints. This learning is formulated into the actions set out in section 10.

5.2. Reasons for escalation to stage two

Complainants can escalate their complaint to stage two.

Interestingly, the majority of complaints escalated to stage two had been upheld at stage one. Overwhelmingly, the reason and desired outcomes from escalation to stage two was related to actions promised at stage one having not been taken. The next most significant reasons were that the level of redress was considered to be inadequate, or, whether upheld or not, the complainant did not feel that the wrongdoing had been adequately recognised or explored at stage one.

Stage two desired outcomes	percentage of cases featuring this desired outcome
Works/actions promised to be concluded	60.4%
Financial compensation	29%
wants wrongdoing acknowledged/further investigation	25%
wants policy or procedure or training change	8.3%

6. Complaint outcomes

6.1. Complaints upheld.

A very similar proportion of complaints are not upheld at each stage. However, although the percentage of complaints where some element is upheld (fully or partly) is also similar at stage one and stage two (75/75.5 per cent) a higher proportion are upheld at stage one.

Stage one		%
Upheld	178	47%
Partly upheld	107	28%
Not upheld	70	19%
Other – withdrawn/ invalid/duplicate	23	6%
Total	378	100%

Stage Two		%
Upheld	18	37.5%
Partly upheld	18	38%
Not upheld	8	17%
Other - withdrawn/ invalid/duplicate	4	8%
Total	48	100%

6.2. Proportion of complaints where financial compensation was offered.

Stage	Percentage offered financial compensation
2	54 %

An absence of appropriate compensation is a factor leading to stage two complaints as above. Offers of financial compensation at stage one are made only in a small proportion of cases, at stage two they are more likely. This does suggest that some confidence around the offer of compensation at stage one could go some way towards mitigating dissatisfaction leading to a stage two complaint. However, the overriding source of complaint at stage two is dissatisfaction with action promised at stage one.

Our system currently measures financial compensation, so non-financial compensation is not included in the report. Our forthcoming compensation policy reflects the approach taken to both financial and non-financial remedies and where possible these will also be included for analysis.

7. Housing Ombudsman determinations

In 23/24 we received 5 complaints from the Housing Ombudsman.

Four of these required us to respond to the complaint or log the complaint if we had not already done so. Only one, in February 2024, led to a full investigation by the Ombudsman, with no outcome yet at the time of this report.

We also received one Housing Ombudsman's determination (Crawley Borough Council (202201018) in February 2024, which related to a complaint received in 2022-23 .

The determination found maladministration in relation handling of new build defects, and service failure in response to complaint handling, repairs to front door and handling of queries about solar panels. It further recommended that we implement a customer-facing repairs policy. Other learning included the need to keep clear records relating to all interactions with the customer systematically within our housing management system CRM (customer relationship management) module, so that the customer journey, contact and communication and actions to manage the issues have been logged effectively.

A compensation award was ordered totalling £1,425. Learning has been included in the Complaints Service Improvement Plan in Section 10.

8. Customer feedback and scrutiny

Our Tenants and Leaseholders Action Panel (TLAP) complaints group met monthly throughout the year, each time scrutinising the handling of a cross-section of complaints. Feedback and recommendations are shared with Crawley Homes' Senior Management Team (SMT) and actions incorporated into our Complaints Service Improvement Plan.

Highlights from the TLAP complaints group feedback over the year included:

- A number of procedure or process amendments each relating to particular cases to prevent reoccurrence.
- Steps to improve the handling process including:
 - Although the complaint is acknowledged and logged immediately, there should always be additional contact within 5 days from Crawley Homes. This opens lines of communication with the customer, clarifies intended outcomes and sets expectations.
 - A template was introduced that follows all stages set out in the ombudsman's code to make sure that each is followed and transparently reported back to the customer.

- Additional training with maintenance operatives through toolbox talks as well as more formally.

- Suggestions for communications/literature to keep customers better informed, for example, following from surveyors' visits, ahead of works or where scaffolding will be needed – see Complaints Service Improvement Plan section one: communications.
- A number of policy changes and amendments to workflow/procedural documents.

We are indebted to our TLAP colleagues for their work towards improving the customer experience, and actions are set out in the Complaints Service Improvement Plan in section 10.

9. Conclusions

This annual report has highlighted that performance against timescale at stage one has been poor, but interventions during the year began to manifest in better outcomes by against timescale by quarter four.

We expect further improvement as a result of the restructure of our repairs service. This will embed during 2024-2025, and attribute designated resource to assessing the condition of our stock and to the project management of planned works. Complaints will be better coordinated with the introduction of a new post of complaints manager. At stage two, where this coordination exists, adherence to timescales is high with slippage only in limited or complex cases.

Although the new arrangements are unlikely to be in place until mid-year, actions set in the Complaints Service Improvement plan mean that root causes of dissatisfaction will be addressed throughout.

Additionally, as we continue through the phased implementation of our Active H housing management system, improved data monitoring, repairs logging and direct customer access to repairs information will reduce the communication and delay issues so commonly appearing within complaints. The use of 'tasking' to ensure the fulfilment of actions, and the ability to track customer touch points will mean that many of the issues prompting stage one complaints and escalation to stage two will be managed at the outset. It is recognised also that some of the issues giving rise to complaint have resulted from the use of different databases and systems and the changeover to the new system across some aspects of the service during 2023-4.

There is a need to review current monitoring arrangements and ensure full review each quarter of service, team, handling and outcomes. This has already been established at SMT level.

There is also a recognised need for enhanced complaints handling training including around communications, timescales, use of the complaints handling system, actions and redress. Current training and requirements will be evaluated and delivered during 2024-2025.

Numerous actions have been set to manage the root causes of complaints as set out in section 10 below. These will need to be monitored and tracked against complaints performance over 2024-2025 to evaluate their success in addressing these causes and preventing their reoccurrence.

Appendix A: Self-assessment form

This self-assessment form should be completed by the complaints officer and it must be reviewed and approved by the landlord's governing body at least annually.

Once approved, landlords must publish the self-assessment as part of the annual complaints performance and service improvement report on their website. The governing body's response to the report must be published alongside this.

Landlords are required to complete the self-assessment in full and support all statements with evidence, with additional commentary as necessary.

We recognise that there may be a small number of circumstances where landlords are unable to meet the requirements, for example, if they do not have a website. In these circumstances, we expect landlords to deliver the intentions of the Code in an alternative way, for example by publishing information in a public area so that it is easily accessible.

Section 1: Definition of a complaint

Code provision	Code requirement	Comply: Yes / No	Evidence	Commentary / explanation
1.2	A complaint must be defined as: ‘an expression of dissatisfaction, however made, about the standard of service, actions or lack of action by the landlord, its own staff, or those acting on its behalf, affecting a resident or group of residents.’	Yes	Webpage Complaints Crawley GOV Definition in Crawley Borough Councils Complaints Policy April 2024	For the purposes of this policy, and in line with the definition provided by the Local Government & Social Care & the Housing Ombudsman Services, a complaint is defined as: “an expression of dissatisfaction, however made, about the standard of a service, actions or lack of actions by the council, its own staff, or those acting on its behalf, affecting an individual or group of individuals”
1.3	A resident does not have to use the word ‘complaint’ for it to be treated as such. Whenever a resident expresses dissatisfaction landlords must give them the choice to make complaint. A complaint that is submitted via a third party or representative must be handled in line with the landlord’s complaints policy.	Yes	Complaint report - What this form is for - Section 1 - myCrawley	Our online complaint form clearly states third parties can complete the form, including family members and health professionals. CBC policy “The complaints policy also covers complaints made via your local Councillor or Member of Parliament.” We can accept complaints by a representative. Although not explicitly mentioned in the policy
1.4	Landlords must recognise the difference between a service request and a complaint. This must be set out in their complaints policy. A service request is a request from a resident to the landlord requiring action to be taken to put something right. Service requests are not complaints, but must be recorded,	Yes	Defined in CBC Policy - What wouldn’t be considered as a complaint? There are some instances where an expression of dissatisfaction will not be treated as a complaint under the council’s complaints policy. Examples of these are:	Service requests are recorded as such, acknowledged, and passed to the service area. They are then dealt with as per any other service requests, e.g. repairs requested. 1.5	A complaint must be raised when the resident expresses dissatisfaction with the response to their service request, even if the handling of the service request remains ongoing. Landlords must not stop their efforts to address the service request if the resident complains.	Yes	Complaints Policy states A request for a service (e.g., a missed waste collection, requesting a repair for the first time, or reporting problems like fly tipping or litter.) These may subsequently be treated as a complaint if we don't deal with the original request.	Any dissatisfaction with the response to a service request will be treated as a formal complaint and processed accordingly. It would not stop our efforts to address the service request.
1.6	An expression of dissatisfaction with services made through a survey is not defined as a complaint, though wherever possible, the person completing the survey should be made aware of how they can pursue a complaint if they wish to. Where landlords ask for wider feedback about their services, they also must provide details of how residents can complain.	Yes	A standard statement will be included at the end of each online or paper survey from June 2024. “Please note that any expression of dissatisfaction with our service made in a survey is not defined as a complaint. For more information about how to make a complaint please visit the complaints page on the councils' website. ”	We have overlooked this for our recent surveys but have promoted to residents how they can make a complaint over the year. We will review surveys in the future to ensure we promote complaints process.

Section 2: Exclusions

Code provision	Code requirement	Comply: Yes / No	Evidence	Commentary / explanation
2.1	Landlords must accept a complaint unless there is a valid reason not to do so. If landlords decide not to accept a complaint they must be able to evidence their reasoning. Each complaint must be considered on its own merits	Yes	It is extremely rare for us not to accept a request. If the complaint is the responsibility of another organisation an automatic response is sent setting out who the complaint should be directed to. In all other cases, each complaint is considered on its own merits and a reason given in full if not accepted.	See also 2.4
2.2	A complaints policy must set out the circumstances in which a matter will not be considered as a complaint or escalated, and these circumstances must be fair and reasonable to residents. Acceptable exclusions include: 1.1 The issue giving rise to the complaint occurred over twelve months ago. 1.2 Legal proceedings have started. This is defined as details of the claim, such as the Claim Form and Particulars of Claim, having been filed at court. 1.3 Matters that have previously been considered under the complaints policy.	Yes	CBC Policy states What wouldn't be considered as a complaint? There are some instances where an expression of dissatisfaction will not be treated as a complaint under the council's complaints policy. When the matter is being dealt with through our insurers. • Disagreement with a council policy or legislation decision that we are applying when delivering a service.

Code provision	Code requirement	Comply: Yes / No	Evidence	Commentary / explanation
2.3	Landlords must accept complaints referred to them within 12 months of the issue occurring or the resident becoming aware of the issue unless they are excluded on other grounds. Landlords must consider whether to apply discretion to accept complaints made outside this time limit where there are good reasons to do so.	Yes	CBC Complaints Policy states Time limit for making complaints Complaints should be made as soon as possible after the incident and no more than 12 months from the event or issue being complained about. Discretion may be applied to accepting complaints made outside this time limit where there are good reasons to do so.
2.4	If a landlord decides not to accept a complaint, an explanation must be provided to the resident setting out the reasons why the matter is not suitable for the complaints process and the right to take that decision to the Ombudsman. If the Ombudsman does not agree that the exclusion has been fairly applied, the Ombudsman may tell the landlord to take on the complaint.	Yes	If a complaint is not accepted, the Service Manager would contact the complainant in the format it was received in to explain why e.g. email or post. If the complaint is a service request, this will be acknowledged back by the Corporate Performance Team to the customer, explaining why it is not being logged as a complaint.	Information about the Ombudsman is now included in the response explaining the decision not to accept a complaint
2.5	Landlords must not take a blanket approach to excluding complaints; they must consider the individual circumstances of each complaint.	Yes	Our policy has no blanket exclusions – see 2.1 .

Section 3: Accessibility and Awareness

Code provision	Code requirement	Comply: Yes / No	Evidence	Commentary / explanation
3.1	Landlords must make it easy for residents to complain by providing different channels through which they can make a complaint. Landlords must consider their duties under the Equality Act 2010 and anticipate the needs and reasonable adjustments of residents who may need to access the complaints process.	Yes	Complaints can be submitted using our online complaints form. You can also make a complaint by email, telephone on 01293 438000, visiting the Town Hall, or by writing to us: Corporate Performance Team, Governance People & Performance Division, Town Hall, The Boulevard, Crawley, West Sussex, RH10 1UZ. Our preference is for customers to use the online form. 3.5	The policy must explain how the landlord will publicise details of the complaints policy, including information about the Ombudsman and this Code.	No	Crawley Borough Council's complaints policy does not explain how we will publicise the complaints policy to residents as it is an overarching corporate policy; however, Crawley Homes promotes and publicises how to make a complaint, for example through hosting a Meet the Ombudsman event, information, Annual reports etc – see communications plan attached. Section 6: Complaints Stages

Stage 1

Code provision	Code requirement	Comply: Yes / No	Evidence	Commentary / explanation
6.1	Landlords must have processes in place to consider which complaints can be responded to as early as possible, and which require further investigation. Landlords must consider factors such as the complexity of the complaint and whether the resident is vulnerable or at risk. Most stage 1 complaints can be resolved promptly, and an explanation, apology or resolution provided to the resident.	Yes	The investigator makes personal contact, usually by telephone, with the complainant. This makes it possible to establish the complexity and any issues that specifically unpick the needs and wishes of the complainant. This initial discussion enables both parties to identify exactly what needs to be identified, or if there is a swift remedy, to discuss and enact the outcome straightaway.
6.2	Complaints must be acknowledged, defined and logged at stage 1 of the complaint's procedure within five working days of the complaint being received.	Yes	From Complaints Policy: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> we will acknowledge and log the complaint within five working days of the complaint being received our acknowledgement will be made in writing (email or post) and will confirm our understanding of the complaint, the outcome you are seeking and the date you can expect to receive a response 	Complaints are acknowledged and tracked immediately and then are sent to the complaint handler to define and make further contact. Timescales are built into our complaints handling system, with automated reminders sent and tracking throughout
6.3	Landlords must issue a full response to stage 1 complaints within 10 working	Yes	From complaints policy: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> we will issue a full response to days of the complaint being acknowledged.		Stage 1 complaints within 10 working days of the complaint being acknowledged <ul style="list-style-type: none"> the complaint response will be provided when the answer to the complaint is known, not when the outstanding actions required to address the issues are completed. Outstanding actions will be tracked and actioned promptly, with appropriate updates provided

6.4	Landlords must decide whether an extension to this timescale is needed when considering the complexity of the complaint and then inform the resident of the expected timescale for response. Any extension must be no more than 10 working days without good reason, and the reason(s) must be clearly explained to the resident.	Yes	Stated in the policy : In the event an extension is required due to the complexity of the complaint, we will inform you of the expected timescale for the response. This should not exceed a further 10 working days and you will be provided with the details of the relevant Ombudsman	During the course of the year we have been working hard to ensure that officers reach out to complainants to request an extension. This request is integrated into our complaints handling system where it is needed.
6.5	When an organisation informs a resident about an extension to these timescales, they must be provided with the contact details of the Ombudsman.	Yes	As 6.4 above
6.6	A complaint response must be provided to the resident when the answer to the complaint is known, not when the outstanding actions required to address the issue are completed. Outstanding actions must still be tracked and actioned	Yes	The complaint handler will track outstanding actions or identify an officer to be responsible for keeping the complainant informed.	We have now built capacity into our Housing Management systems to track outstanding items and keep residents updated.

	promptly with appropriate updates provided to the resident.
6.7	Landlords must address all points raised in the complaint definition and provide clear reasons for any decisions, referencing the relevant policy, law and good practice where appropriate.	Yes	The stage 1 response letter template is sectioned so that each point raised is addressed.	We will ensure complaint handlers are skilled in completing responses. Responses are monitored by senior managers.
6.8	Where residents raise additional complaints during the investigation, these must be incorporated into the stage 1 response if they are related, and the stage 1 response has not been issued. Where the stage 1 response has been issued, the new issues are unrelated to the issues already being investigated or it would unreasonably delay the response, the new issues must be logged as a new complaint.	Yes	From policy: 'If more information or additional complaints are raised during the complaint investigation and is relevant to the original issue and a response has not been provided, we will include these in our response. If, however the Stage 1 response has been issued, or the new issues are unrelated we will log it as a new complaint.'
6.9	Landlords must confirm the following in writing to the resident at the completion of stage 1 in clear, plain language: a) the complaint stage; b) the complaint definition; c) the decision on the complaint; d) the reasons for any decisions made; e) the details of any remedy offered to put things right; f. details of any outstanding actions; and g. details of how to escalate the matter to stage 2 if the individual is not satisfied with the response.	Yes	Included in CBC Complaints Policy	Our policy incorporates detail on these requirements. Following resident feedback, however, we introduced a template letter, which can be personalised and adapted, but follows these requirements as mandatory. We have introduced an induction which includes communication standards and understanding of accessibility and plain English.

Code provision	Code requirement	Comply: Yes / No	Evidence	Commentary / explanation
6.10	If all or part of the complaint is not resolved to the resident's satisfaction at stage 1, it must be progressed to stage 2 of the landlord's procedure. Stage 2 is the landlord's final response.	Yes	Response letter includes the following text: This reply concludes stage one of the Council's complaints procedure. If you remain dissatisfied you can escalate your complaint to the second stage of our complaints procedure, at this final stage your complaint will be reviewed by the Head of Crawley Homes. Further details about our complaints procedure can be found at www.crawley.gov.uk . Information and advice about making and escalating a complaint can also be obtained from the Housing Ombudsman, telephone 0300 111 3000 or visit the website www.housing-ombudsman.org.uk .	This is built into the response and sent and tracked via our complaint management system
6.11	Requests for stage 2 must be acknowledged, defined and logged at stage 2 of the complaints procedure within five working days of the escalation request being received.	Yes	This is built into our complaints management system with reminders and trackers as above
6.12	Residents must not be required to explain their reasons for requesting a stage 2 consideration. Landlords are expected to	Yes	CBC Complaints Policy updated in April 2024	The automatic right to progress to stage two is clearly written into our complaint outcome letter. As with stage one,

	make reasonable efforts to understand why a resident remains unhappy as part of its stage 2 response.			complainants are offered a personal phone contact to discuss further and unpick reasons for dissatisfaction.
6.13	The person considering the complaint at stage 2 must not be the same person that considered the complaint at stage 1.	Yes	From Policy: Stage 2 complaints are conducted by the relevant head of service and is the final stage of our complaints process. This review will ensure that all matters raised in the original complaint have been fully and accurately addressed, and if not, to ensure that this is rectified.	The Head of Crawley Homes investigates complaints at stage two. They do not investigate complaints at stage one, so that there is a clear involvement at stage 2 only
6.14	Landlords must issue a final response to the stage 2 within 20 working days of the complaint being acknowledged.	Yes	CBC Policy states ‘We aim to respond to Stage 2 complaints within 20 working days of the complaint being escalated.	Timescales and reminders are built into our systems as above.
6.15	Landlords must decide whether an extension to this timescale is needed when considering the complexity of the complaint and then inform the resident of the expected timescale for response. Any extension must be no more than 20 working days without good reason, and the reason(s) must be clearly explained to the resident.	Yes	CBC policy sets this out: In exceptional cases, we will provide an explanation to you containing a clear timeframe for when the response will be received. This should not exceed a further 10 working days without good reason.	As above – telephone contact with complainant helps unpick complexity and agree any deviations to timescale. Our complaint management system tracks response times and gives clear warnings when these are approaching to enable extension periods to be agreed if necessary
6.16	When an organisation informs a resident about an extension to these timescales, they must be provided with the contact details of the Ombudsman.	Yes	Policy states: ‘In the event an extension is required due to the complexity of the complaint, we will inform you of the expected timescale for the response. This should not exceed a further 20

			working days and you will be provided with the details of the relevant Ombudsman.
6.17	A complaint response must be provided to the resident when the answer to the complaint is known, not when the outstanding actions required to address the issue are completed. Outstanding actions must still be tracked and actioned promptly with appropriate updates provided to the resident.	Yes	As stage one above	Actions are placed on a tracker. We are looking to improve this by using our organisational 'tasking' system, with reminders, so that multiple parties who may be involved in follow up actions are checking off all that they are responsible for and updating the customer.
6.18	Landlords must address all points raised in the complaint definition and provide clear reasons for any decisions, referencing the relevant policy, law and good practice where appropriate.	Yes	Stage 1 letter template	Each point is addressed in turn, our standard letter format for this ensures that this is the case.
6.19	Landlords must confirm the following in writing to the resident at the completion of stage 2 in clear, plain language: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a) the complaint stage; b) the complaint definition; c) the decision on the complaint; d) the reasons for any decisions made; e) the details of any remedy offered to put things right; f) details of any outstanding actions; and g) details of how to escalate the matter to the Ombudsman Service if the individual remains dissatisfied. 	Yes	See policy	As above 6.18

6.20	Stage 2 is the landlord's final response and must involve all suitable staff members needed to issue such a response.	Yes	Letter response makes it clear that stage 2 is the final response. It sets out all lines of enquiry and appropriate staff members who have provided information. The response letter is always from the Head of Crawley Homes.
